HONOR TO THE DEAD

National Congress Pays Tribute to Memory of McKinley---Mr. Hay's Splendid Oration.

IMPRESSIVE SCENE IN THE HOUSE

Washington, Feb. 27.—At noon today, in the great hall of representatives, in the presence of President Roosevelt, Prince Henry of Prussia, brother of the German emperor; the members of the cabinet, the justices of the supreme court, the general of the army and officers of the army and navy who have received the thanks of congress, the ambassadors and other diplomatic representatives of foreign countries, the senators and representatives in congress and a large number of distinguished guests, Hon. John Hay, McKinley's premier, pronounced a eulogy upon his dead chief. Four times before national memorial services for presidents who have died in office have been held in this hall—two of them, like this, in commemoration of chief magistrates who have fallen by the hand of assassins. George Bancroft, the historian, pronounced the eulogy on Lincoln, and Blaine was Garfield's orator. It was eminently fitting that the last public ceremonial of sorrow for the lamented McKinley should take place in the forum which had echoed his voice, in the arena where he won his spurs.

Before the doors were opened for ticketholders the corridors of the capitol were unoccupied save for the guards. Within the hall of representatives all was in readiness.

DIPLOMATIC CORPS APPEARS.

At 11:40, as the strains of the intermezzo from Cavaleria Rusticana floated through the hall, there was a stir throughout the chamber. The doors to the right of the speaker's rostrum were flung wide and the members of the diplomatic corps marched in, preceded by the sergeant-at-arms of the house. The foreign ambassadors and ministers did not appear in their court costumes, but in sombre frock suits befitting the occasion, with the exception of the Chinese minister, who was attired in his rich costume of silk. A few of the military and naval attaches who belonged to their staffs, who had come to the capitol in their brilliant uniforms, did not enter the hall.

Lord Pauncefote, the British ambassador, who is the dean of the corps, headed the procession. With him were the ambassadors of the other powers, M. Cambon, of France; Count Cassini, of Russia; Signor Mayor Desplanches, of Italy, and Senor Aspiroz, of Mexico.

Then for a time no special incident occurred and those in the regular galleries were afforded an opportunity to examine the occupants of the specially reserved galleries. The diplomatic and executive galleries naturally drew all eyes. The former was reserved exclusively for the families of the members of the diplomatic corps and had been filled early.

OTHER NOTABLE PERSONS.

Mrs. Roosevelt, Miss Roosevelt, Mrs. Cowles, the president's sister, and Mrs. Carow, the president's sister-in-law, and friends of the president, occupied the executive gallery.

Just beyond the bronze rail that separated the diplomatic from the executive gallery were the families of the members of the supreme court and of the cabinet and the invited guests of the president. There also were a number of the personal friends of Secretary Hay, the orator of the day.

In the surrounding galleries were many of the personal friends of the late president, among them Col. Myron T. Herrick, of Cleveland; W. A. Lynch, of Canton; ex-Secretary of State William R. Day and Col. Webb Hayes, of Cleveland. These are only a few of those from all quarters of the union who came to attend the memorial exercises. But no member of the immediate family of the late president, so far as known, was in attendance. On the floor were many former members of the house, senate and the governors of the several states.

CALLS HOUSE TO ORDER.

As the hands of the gold clock opposite the speaker's rostrum pointed to noon, Speaker Henderson called the assemblage to order. He was dressed in a black frock coat, the solemnness of which was relieved by a flower in the lapel. The vast audience instantly responded to his signal and arose to listen to the brief prayer of the chaplain. There followed the usual routine of the opening of a session of the house. The journal of Wednesday's proceedings was read by the clerk in the customary droning fashion. By the speaker's direction the clerk read the joint resolution providing for the memorial services and the order of the proceedings. Hardly had the reading been concluded and the journal approved before the doorkeeper announced the arrival of the senate. The speaker tapped three times, the members of the house and the diplomatic body arose, and General Miles, resplendent in gold lace, gold epaulettes and a broad yellow sash across his breast, with his side arms clanging heavily at his heels, came down the main aisle. Admiral Dewey, who is absent in Florida, would have been with him had he been in the city, but as it was the lieutenant general of the army, alone and unattended, made his way to his place at the extreme right of the chairs reserved for members of the court.

PRINCE HENRY COMES.

Tap, tap, tap, and once more the assemblage rose. The door swung open and on the threshold, with every eye upon him, stood Prince Henry between Senator Foraker and General Grosvenor, chairmen respectively of the senate and house committees. "His royal highness, Prince Henry, of Prussia," announced the doorkeeper. The prince hesitated a moment, but showed not the slightest trace of discomfiture. He was dressed in the simple dark blue uniform of an admiral of the German navy, without a single star or other evidence of the imperial house to which he belonged upon his breast. His rank in the German navy was indicated by the bands of gold upon the sleeves. He carried white gloves and his flat naval cap in his left hand. At his side hung a short gold scabbard. Slender, but tall and commanding looking, he towered above those at his ide. He came forward with easy, graceful bearing, escorted by Senator Foraker and General Grosvenor, and took the place assigned for him next to that reserved for the president. At the same time the members of his suite in their showy uniforms who had followed him into the hall, were ushered into the seats directly in the rear of those reserved for members of the senate. The prince wore a band of mourning upon his left arm. This was not, however, in honor of the occasion, but was the badge of mourning still worn by the members of the German imperial family for his dead mother, the dowager empress of Germany.

As soon as all had again been seated the speaker's gavel once more brought the assemblage to its feet, and the members of the senate appeared headed by Senator Frye, the president pro tem. The senators took their seats immediately in the rear of the members of the diplomatic corps.

THE SUPREME COURT.

Next the doorkeeper announced the chief justice and associate justices of the supreme court and the stately and dignified judges swathed in their black robes and preceded by the marshal of the court, came solemnly down the aisle. The tall and commanding form of Justice Gray, who has recently been stricken with paralysis and who was always conspicuous by reason of his great size, was the only missing member of the court.

At this point the speaker announced that he would yield the gavel to Senator Frye, who, under the joint resolution providing for the memorial exercises, was to preside. Then came a pause, another signal followed and the president and members of his cabinet stood upon the threshold. As the president was announced the marine band in the lobby struck up "Hail to the Chief." President Roosevelt was accompanied down the aisle by Secretary Hay, the orator of the day, and followed immediately by his aides, Colonel Bingham of the army, and Major Gilmore, of the marine corps, each in full uniform. The other members of the cabinet came in the wake of these uniformed officers. The president was attired in a black frock coat, with grey trousers, and wore a mourning band of crepe upon his left arm. He took his place in the area facing the speaker's desk, with Prince Henry upon his right. With the latter he exchanged a word of greeting.

AN ILLUSTRIOUS GROUP.

The members of the cabinet, excepting Secretary Hay, who was the orator of the occasion and who was escorted to the clerk's desk immediately below the rostrum of the presiding officer, took their places to the right of the prince in the following order: Secretary of War Root, Attorney General Knox, Postmaster General Payne, Secretary of the Navy Long, Secretary of the Interior Hitchcock. Secretary Shaw, the latest acquisition to the cabinet, and Secretary Wilson, were absent.

All now being in readiness Senator Frye called the assemblage to order and after a fervent prayer by Rev. Dr. Couden, the blind chaplain of the house, he introduced the orator of the day. With impressive dignity Secretary Hay arose and placed upon the desk in front of him a roll of manuscript. The secretary's figure is slight and his scholarly face is usually pale, but today there was a flush upon the cheek. As he began to read with a slow, clear enunciation he seemed aware of the intense interest not alone in his subject, but in his own personality, as he read his tribute of love and loyalty to his departed chief.

Secretary Hay is not a finished orator in the strict acceptation of the term, but today his voice had unusually carrying power and he was able to make himself heard to the farthermost recesses of the hall. The purity of style and depth of thought of his composition fully compensated for whatever force was lacking in his delivery.

SECRETARY HAY'S ORATION.

His oration was as follows:

For the third time the congress of the United States are assembled to commemorate the life and the death of a president slain by the hand of an assassin. The attention of the future historian will be attracted to the features which reappear with startling sameness in all three of these awful crimes: The uselessness, the utter lack of consequence of the act; the obscurity, the insignificance of the criminal; the blamelessness—so far as in our sphere of existence the best of men may be held blameless—of the victim. Not one of our murdered presidents had an enemy in the world; they were all of such pre-eminent purity of life that no pretext could be given for the attack of passional crime; they were all men of democratic instincts who could never have offended the most jealous advocates of equality; they were of kindly and generous nature, to whom wrong or injustice was impossible; of moderate fortune, whose slender means nobody could envy. They were men of austere virtue, of tender heart, of eminent abilities, which they had devoted with single minds to the good of the republic. If ever men walked before God and man without blame, it was these three rulers of our people. The only temptation to attack their lives offered was their gentle radiance—to eyes hating the light that was offense enough.

The stupid uselessness of such an infamy affronts the common sense of the world. One can conceive how the death of a dictator may change the political conditions of an empire; how the extinction of a narrowing line of kings may bring in an alien dynasty. But in a well-ordered republic like ours, the ruler may fall, but the state feels no tremor. Our beloved and revered leader is gone—but the natural process of our laws provides us a successor, identical in purpose and ideals, nourished by the same teachings, inspired by the same principles, pledged by tender affection as well as by high loyalty to carry to completion the immense task committed to his hands, and to smite with iron severity every manifestation of that hideous crime which his mild predecessor, with his dying breath, forgave. The sayings of celestial wisdom have no date; the words that reach us, over two thousand years, out of the darkest hour of gloom the world has ever known, are true to the life today: "They know not what they do." The blow struck at our dear friend and ruler was as deadly as blind hate could make it; but the blow struck at anarchy was deadlier still.

RAISES INSOLUBLE PROBLEMS.

What a world of insoluble problems such an event excites in the mind! Not merely in its personal, but in its public aspects, it presents a paradox not to be comprehended. Under a system of government so free and so impartial that we recognize its existence only by its benefactions; under a social order so purely democratic that classes can not exist in it, affording opportunities so universal that even conditions are as changing as the winds, where the laborer of today is the capitalist of tomorrow; under laws which are the result of ages of evolution, so uniform and so beneficent that the president has just the same rights and privileges as the artisan; we see the same hellish growth of hatred and murder which dogs equally the footsteps of benevolent monarchs and blood-stained despots. How many countries can join with us in the community of a kindred sorrow! I will not speak of those distant regions where assassination enters into the daily life of government. But among the nations bound to us by the ties of familiar intercourse—who can forget that wise and mild autocrat who had earned the proud title of the liberator? That enlightened and magnanimous citizen whom France still mourns? That brave and chivalrous king of Italy who only lived for his people? And, saddest of all, that lovely and sorrowing empress, whose harmless life could hardly have excited the animosity of a demon. Against that devilish spirit nothing avails—neither virtue, nor patriotism, nor age nor youth, nor conscience nor pity. We can not even say that education is a sufficient safeguard against this baleful evil—for most of the wretches whose crimes have so shocked humanity in recent years are men not unlettered, who have gone from the common schools, through murder, to the scaffold.

THE LIFE OF M'KINLEY.

The life of William McKinley was, from his birth to his death, typically American. There is no environment, I should say, anywhere else in the world which could produce just such a character. He was born into that way of life which elsewhere is called the middle class, but which in this country is so nearly universal as to make of other classes an almost negligible quantity. He was neither rich nor poor, neither proud nor humble; he knew no hunger he was not sure of satisfying, no luxury which could enervate mind or body. His parents were sober, God-fearing people; intelligent and upright; without pretension and without humility. He grew up in the company of boys like himself; wholesome, honest, self-respecting. They looked down on nobody: they never felt it possible they could be looked down upon. Their houses were the homes of probity, piety, patriotism. They learned in the admirable school readers of fifty years ago the lessons of heroic and splendid life which have come down from the past. They read in their weekly newspapers the story of the world's progress, in which they were eager to take part, and of the sins and wrongs of civilization with which they burned to do battle. It was a serious and thoughtful time. The boys of that day felt dimly, but deeply, that days of sharp struggle and high achievement were before them. They looked at life with the wondering yet resolute eyes of a young esquire in his vigil of arms. They felt a time was coming when to them should be addressed the stern admonition of the apostle, "Quit you like men; be strong."

Mr. Hay then touched upon the feeling which possessed the north at the breaking out of the rebellion, young McKinley's enlistment, the high character of his service, his return from the war, his study for and engagement of practice in the law, his talents and his predilection for politics, his election to congress, his services as a congressman, his political and economic principles, his force as a debater, his grasp of great questions, his growing popularity, and the gerrymander in his Ohio district which legislated him out of congress. Continuing the speaker said:

Someone has said it is easy to love our enemies; they help us so much more than our friends. The people whose malevolent skill had turned McKinley out of congress deserved well of him and of the republic. Never was Nemesis more swift and energetic. The republicans of Ohio were saved the trouble of choosing a governor—the other side chose one for them. A year after McKinley left congress he was made governor of Ohio, and two years later he was re-elected, each time by majorities unhoped-for and overwhelming. He came to fill a place in the public eye which obscured a great portion of the field of vision. In two national conventions, the presidency seemed within his reach. But he had gone there in the interest of others and his honor forbade any dalliance with temptation. So his nay was nay—delivered with a tone and gesture there was no denying. His hour was not yet come.

GROWTH OF M'KINLEY.

There was, however, no long delay. He became, from year to year, the most eminent politician and orator in the country. Passionately devoted to the principles of his party, he was always ready to do anything, to go anywhere, to proclaim its ideas and to support its candidates. His face and his voice became familiar to millions of our people; and wherever they were seen and heard, men became his partisans. His face was cast in a classic mold; you see faces like it in antique marble in the galleries of the Vatican and in the portraits of the great cardinal-statesmen of Italy; his voice was the voice of the perfect orator—ringing, vibrating, tireless, persuading by its very sound, by its accent of sincere conviction. So prudent and so guarded were all his utterances, so lofty his courtesy, that he never embarrassed his friends, and never offended his opponents. For several months before the republican national convention met in 1896, it was evident to all who had eyes to see that Mr. McKinley was the only probable candidate of his party. Other names were mentioned, of the highest rank in ability, character, and popularity; they were supported by powerful combinations; but the nomination of McKinley as against the field was inevitable.

The campaign he made will be always memorable in our political annals. He and his friends had thought that the issue for the year was the distinctive and historic difference between the two parties on the subject of the tariff. To this wager of battle the discussions of the previous four years distinctly pointed. But no sooner had the two parties made their nominations than it became evident that the opposing candidate declined to accept the field of discussion chosen by the republicans, and proposed to put forward as the main issue the free coinage of silver. Mr. McKinley at once accepted this challenge, and, taking the battle for protection as already won, went with energy into the discussion of the theories presented by his opponents. He had wisely concluded not to leave his home during the canvass, thus avoiding a proceeding which has always been of sinister augury in our politics; but from the front porch of his modest house in Canton he daily addressed the delegations which came from every part of the country to greet him in a series of speeches so strong, so varied, so pertinent, so full of facts briefly set forth, of theories embodied in a single phrase, that they formed the hourly text for the other speakers of his party, and give probably the most convincing proof we have of his surprising fertility of resource and flexibility of mind. All this was done without anxiety or strain. I remember a day I spent with him during that busy summer. He had made nineteen speeches the day before; that day he made many. In the intervals of these addresses he sat in his study and talked, with nerves as quiet and a mind as free from care as if we had been spending a holiday at the seaside or among the hills.

HE FACED A CRISIS.

When he came to the presidency he confronted a situation of the utmost difficulty, which might well have appalled a man of less serene and tranquil self-confidence. There had been a state of profound commercial and industrial depression, from which his friends had said his election would relieve the country. Our relations with the outside world left much to be desired. The feeling between the northern and southern sections of the union was lacking in the cordiality which was necessary to the welfare of both. Hawaii had asked for annexation and had been rejected by the preceding administration. There was a state of things in the Caribbean which could not permanently endure. Our neighbor's house was on fire, and there were grave doubts as to our rights and duties in the premises. A man either weak or rash, either resolute or headstrong, might have brought ruin on himself and incalculable harm to the country.

Again I crave the pardon of those who differ with me, if, against all my intentions, I happen to say a word which may seem to them unbefitting the place and hour. But I am here to give the opinion which his friends entertained of President McKinley, of course claiming no immunity from criticism in what I shall say. I believe, then, that the verdict of history will be that he met all these grave questions with perfect valor and incomparable ability; that in grappling with them he rose to the full height of a great occasion, in a manner which redounded to the lasting benefit of the country and to his own immortal honor.

The least desirable form of glory to a man of his habitual mood and temper—that of successful war—was, nevertheless conferred upon him by uncontrollable events.

AGAIN AT CAPITAL

PRINCE HENRY RETURNS TO WASHINGTON.

TO SEE POINTS OF INTEREST

PAYS A VISIT TO THE TOMB OF WASHINGTON.

AT BANQUET OF THE EDITORS

GUEST OF HONOR AT NOTABLE AFFAIR IN NEW YORK.

Washington, Feb. 27.—The second chapter in the national capital's welcome to Prince Henry of Prussia began today. Arriving at 9 o'clock this morning, he and his suite at noon attended the McKinley memorial services at the capitol and at their conclusion made a flying trip to pay tribute to the memory of the father of his country at Mount Vernon. He will be the guest of President Roosevelt at a dinner at the white house tonight. The weather this forenoon was delightful.

CROWD AT THE EMBASSY.

At the German embassy a large crowd also had gathered. The embassy was again handsomely decorated with the imperial colors and with garlands of myrtle and pine. At 9:15 o'clock the cavalry escort, consisting of troops F and G, Second cavalry, galloped up Massachusetts avenue and swung into battalion front facing the embassy. Prince Henry drove up in an open carriage, nodding and smiling in recognition of the applause and returning each military salute. Assistant Secretary of State Hill sat beside him, with Captain Cowles, naval aide to President Roosevelt, on the other seat. The guard of honor of ten strapping United States engineers brought their guns to present as he stepped inside. On the threshold of the embassy the prince paused, and facing the long line of troops with saluting sabers and the knots of ladies who had braved their way through the lines, gave a sweeping bow as he turned and went inside.

Within the embassy the prince had at his disposal the handsome suite of apartments on the first floor. Here there was opportunity for a brief rest from the constant round of festivities. There were no formalities during the morning.

WON HONORS AT CHESS.

In the North Dakota state chess tournament just held at Grand Forks, Fred M. Willson, formerly of this city, won signal honors, securing five straight games against some of the experts of that state. Mr. Willson was well known among Fort Wayne chess players before removing to the west. He is a son of M. S. Willson, of this city.

WILL EXEMPLIFY DEGREE.

The splendid degree staff from Ben Hur court No. 15 will exemplify the degree at Huntington next Tuesday evening, when a large number of members of the order from this city will be guests of the Huntington court. The trip will be made over the interurban line.

ABOUT THE COURT HOUSE.

No cases were set for trial in the circuit court today and the entire day was put in in making up issues of docketed cases.

Judge Aiken this morning granted Mary Buhr a divorce from Henry Buhr. The complaint alleged abandonment and failure to provide. The defendant went to the Klondike several years ago and it is alleged has been fortunate. All this did not get the plaintiff anything, who thought she would rather have a divorce for sure than a prospect up north.

Mary McCoy sues Henrietta Thompson for damages in the sum of $2,500. The defendant owns a tenement house on Superior street and the plaintiff is a tenant occupying part of the dwelling. The complaint alleges that the plaintiff fell on a defective step, part of the building, and broke her leg, and further alleges that the accident was due to no neglect on the part of the plaintiff, but to negligence on the part of the defendant, wherefor damages in the above named amount is asked for.

The superior court was today again engaged in hearing evidence in the Leininger will case. Save the Buhr divorce case, above referred to, no other business reached the attention of the court.

MANY MEETINGS TONIGHT.

Cottage prayer meetings of the Bethany Presbyterian parish will be held in the following homes this evening: Frank Longsworth, 298 West Main street; George Stover, 355 West Main street; Charles Compton, 432 West Main street; Fred Bacon, 64 Runion avenue; Mrs. Frances Boseker, corner Runion avenue and Richardson street; Samuel S. Deahl, St. Mary's avenue, near High street.

ELECTED STATE OFFICERS

ROYAL LEAGUE ADVISORY COUNCIL ADJOURNS.

Visitors Were Given a Social Session by Fort Wayne Members Wednesday Evening.

The state advisory council of the Royal League, in session at Harmony hall, has completed its labors and adjourned. Officers for the ensuing year were elected as follows:

Past Archon—John T. Leach, of Fort Wayne.

Advisory Archon—George L. Mueller, of Lafayette.

Vice Archon—E. H. Waldo, of Anderson.

Treasurer—N. B. Howard, of Lafayette.

Scribe—Charles Darling, of Indianapolis.

Delegate to Supreme Council—John T. Leach, of Fort Wayne.

Alternate—Frank L. Henson, of Hammond.

Finance Committee—E. E. S. Seguin, of Indianapolis; Dr. E. G. Prall, of Indianapolis; C. A. Burchard, of Fort Wayne.

W. S. Wells, of this city, continues in office as supreme sentry. Representatives from the councils of Fort Wayne, Indianapolis, Richmond, Terre Haute, Lafayette, Anderson, Hammond, Muncie and Goshen were present and the most important matters of the business session was the recommendation of certain changes to the supreme council.

These favor the prorating of all additional council dues, expenses, etc., among the regular assessments, thus making a uniform monthly payment; to inaugurate a hazard rate of insurance liability, so that members who change their occupations and enter one of the prohibited employments may continue to carry their insurance; to enlarge the powers, duties and revenues of the advisory council, and to provide for the formation of a women's auxiliary to the league.

Last evening the visiting members were guests of the members of Old Fort and Anthony Wayne councils in an enjoyable social session. Caterer George Ohneck served an elegant repast. E. H. Waldo, of Anderson, was toastmaster, and responses were made by nearly all the members, and by Supreme Archon Piper, of Chicago, who was a guest of honor.

Following the banquet a program of recitations and addresses fully two hours in length was highly enjoyed. Past Archon J. T. Leach, of this city, presided. Among those who delivered addresses were Supreme Orator H. P. Rountree, of Chicago; Supreme Archon Piper, of Chicago; Advisory Archon Mueller, Vice Archon Waldo, Secretary Darling, Messrs. Tigar, Henson and others. There are nearly two hundred Royal Leaguers in this city, and both councils are growing rapidly. Most of the visitors left for their homes this morning.

LOCAL LINES.

Miss Ada Moore entertained the M. C. C. club and their gentlemen friends last evening.

Dr. Budd Van Sweringen attended a meeting of the Chicago Medical society at Chicago yesterday.

Mrs. James A. Foster, of Edgewater avenue, entertained this afternoon in honor of Miss Jennie Markley, of Wabash.

Mrs. W. G. Page, of 306 West Williams street, is entertaining a number of friends at a quilting party this afternoon.

Mrs. Smith, of Pierceton, arrived in the city this afternoon for a visit with her daughter, Mrs. C. H. Meek, of West Jefferson street.

Mrs. A. L. Knight, of 78 Montgomery street, will entertain the ladies of the J. F. F. club and their husbands at an oyster supper this evening.

Among the Fort Wayne gentlemen who expect to attend the automobile show in the Auditorium at Chicago next week are Messrs. Will Peltier, Dr. Rose, E. E. Rumble, A. L. Rundall, Will Bostick and Harry Pickard.

DESPERATE FIGHT

BOERS TRY TO GO THROUGH BRITISH OUTPOST LINE.

MADE A FIERCE ONSLAUGHT

FOUGHT FROM CARCASSES OF THEIR SLAIN CATTLE.

WERE FINALLY BEATEN OFF

LOST FIFTEEN MEN AND ALL OF HERD OF 6,000.

London, Feb. 27.—The attack made by the Boers to rush the outpost line near Bothasburg, Transvaal colony, during the night of February 23, reported in General Kitchener's dispatch yesterday, was most determined. The Boers were led by two well known fighters, Ross Hands and Manie Botha. When the Boers realized that their attempt to actually break through the wire fences was frustrated, they crouched beside the cattle killed by the British fire, and with which the ground was thickly strewn, and from that defense poured a heavy fire on the British troops. The fusilade was steadily returned and finally the Boers were driven back, leaving fifteen dead and six wounded on the field.

They also left 170 dead or wounded horses and the entire herd of 6,000 head of cattle.

STRUCK WITH BAR OF IRON

SYRIAN LABORERS FARE BADLY IN A FIGHT.

Colored Man Wanted for the Assault —All Concerned Work at Bass Foundry—Police Notes.

Yesterday afternoon Abd Elfataah and Salem Bander sustained several and sundry swipes alongside of their respective heads. The swipes were delivered from the hard side of a bar of iron in the hands of a colored gentleman whose name on the affidavit appears simply as Mr. Johnson, and the whole crowd is in the employ of the Bass works, at which establishment the fracas occurred. Abd got a pretty hard bump and had to be taken to his home at 15 Lafayette street by the patrol wagon, where he received medical attendance to the extent of a dozen or so stitches required to keep his head from falling apart. Salem was more fortunate and required only two stitches to reset his scalp, which was knocked out of plumb at a point directly over the left eye. Salem came into police court this morning and signed two affidavits against Mr. Johnson charging assault and battery on himself and his battered friend, Mr. Elfataah. Warrants were issued for Johnson and the case will be tried as soon as the assailant is captured. Salem insists that there were about ten colored men mixed up in the fight and that all of them jumped on to him at once; he also insists that he cannot imagine what the fight started about, but remembers distinctly that a very industrious bar hit him on the head just as the sunlight gave out.

Four tramps who applied for lodging last night were accommodated and this morning were given two hours to get out of town. They were not slated.

George Roux's slaughter house, east of the city, was broken into several nights ago. The east end gang of burglars should be looked after by some organizing committee. The whole crowd seems to be working overtime.

A bad gas leak was reported this morning at the corner of Broadway and Taylor street.

"Bottle" Bates allowed his horse and wagon to stand on Wayne street yesterday while he went to tell somebody how it happened, and while he was gone somebody stole a lot of rubber and several empty beer kegs from his load.

LEG BROKEN BY A LOG.

Mick Wuercen, of 236 Francis street, employed in the saw mill of Smith & Reynolds, had his right leg broken while rolling logs this morning. A number of the logs were being shifted from a pile by means of skids and one of them struck Wuercen, who was standing at the foot of the skidway, breaking his leg just above the ankle. Dr. J. W. McCausland reduced the fracture.

HOME FROM GERMANY.

Conrad Baum arrived in the city last evening from a tour abroad, in the course of which he visited his former home in Saxony, Germany. Mr. Baum has been absent twelve weeks, and he made a similar trip fourteen years ago. Then, however, his nephew returned with him, and they made their future home in this city.

HONOR TO THE DEAD

National Congress Pays Tribute to Memory of McKinley---Mr. Hay's Splendid Oration.

IMPRESSIVE SCENE IN THE HOUSE

Washington, Feb. 27.—At noon today, in the great hall of representatives, in the presence of President Roosevelt, Prince Henry of Prussia, brother of the German emperor; the members of the cabinet, the justices of the supreme court, the general of the army and officers of the army and navy who have received the thanks of congress, the ambassadors and other diplomatic representatives of foreign countries, the senators and representatives in congress and a large number of distinguished guests, Hon. John Hay, McKinley's premier, pronounced a eulogy upon his dead chief. Four times before national memorial services for presidents who have died in office have been held in this hall—two of them, like this, in commemoration of chief magistrates who have fallen by the hand of assassins. George Bancroft, the historian, pronounced the eulogy on Lincoln, and Blaine was Garfield's orator. It was eminently fitting that the last public ceremonial of sorrow for the lamented McKinley should take place in the forum which had echoed his voice, in the arena where he won his spurs.

Before the doors were opened for ticketholders the corridors of the capitol were unoccupied save for the guards. Within the hall of representatives all was in readiness.

DIPLOMATIC CORPS APPEARS.

At 11:40, as the strains of the intermezzo from Cavaleria Rusticana floated through the hall, there was a stir throughout the chamber. The doors to the right of the speaker's rostrum were flung wide and the members of the diplomatic corps marched in, preceded by the sergeant-at-arms of the house. The foreign ambassadors and ministers did not appear in their court costumes, but in sombre frock suits befitting the occasion, with the exception of the Chinese minister, who was attired in his rich costume of silk. A few of the military and naval attaches who belonged to their staffs, who had come to the capitol in their brilliant uniforms, did not enter the hall.

Lord Pauncefote, the British ambassador, who is the dean of the corps, headed the procession. With him were the ambassadors of the other powers, M. Cambon, of France; Count Cassini, of Russia; Signor Mayor Desplanches, of Italy, and Senor Aspiroz, of Mexico.

Then for a time no special incident occurred and those in the regular galleries were afforded an opportunity to examine the occupants of the specially reserved galleries. The diplomatic and executive galleries naturally drew all eyes. The former was reserved exclusively for the families of the members of the diplomatic corps and had been filled early.

OTHER NOTABLE PERSONS.

Mrs. Roosevelt, Miss Roosevelt, Mrs. Cowles, the president's sister, and Mrs. Carow, the president's sister-in-law, and friends of the president, occupied the executive gallery.

Just beyond the bronze rail that separated the diplomatic from the executive gallery were the families of the members of the supreme court and of the cabinet and the invited guests of the president. There also were a number of the personal friends of Secretary Hay, the orator of the day.

In the surrounding galleries were many of the personal friends of the late president, among them Col. Myron T. Herrick, of Cleveland; W. A. Lynch, of Canton; ex-Secretary of State William R. Day and Col. Webb Hayes, of Cleveland. These are only a few of those from all quarters of the union who came to attend the memorial exercises. But no member of the immediate family of the late president, so far as known, was in attendance. On the floor were many former members of the house, senate and the governors of the several states.

CALLS HOUSE TO ORDER.

As the hands of the gold clock opposite the speaker's rostrum pointed to noon, Speaker Henderson called the assemblage to order. He was dressed in a black frock coat, the sombreness of which was relieved by a flower in the lapel. The vast audience instantly responded to his signal and arose to listen to the brief prayer of the chaplain. There followed the usual routine of the opening of a session of the house. The journal of Wednesday's proceedings was read by the clerk in the customary droning fashion. By the speaker's direction the clerk read the joint resolution providing for the memorial services and the order of the proceedings. Hardly had the reading been concluded and the journal approved before the doorkeeper announced the arrival of the senate. The speaker tapped three times, the members of the house and the diplomatic body arose, and General Miles, resplendent in gold lace, gold epaulettes and a broad yellow sash across his breast, with his side arms clanging heavily at his heels, came down the main aisle. Admiral Dewey, who is absent in Florida, would have been with him had he been in the city, but as it was the lieutenant general of the army, alone and unattended, made his way to his place at the extreme right of the chairs reserved for members of the court.

PRINCE HENRY COMES.

Tap, tap, tap, and once more the assemblage rose. The door swung open and on the threshold, with every eye upon him, stood Prince Henry between Senator Foraker and General Grosvenor, chairmen respectively of the senate and house committees. "His royal highness, Prince Henry, of Prussia," announced the doorkeeper. The prince hesitated a moment, but showed not the slightest trace of discomfiture. He was dressed in the simple dark blue uniform of an admiral of the German navy, without a single star or other evidence of the imperial house to which he belonged upon his breast. His rank in the German navy was indicated by the bands of gold upon the sleeves. He carried white gloves and his flat naval cap in his left hand. At his side hung a short gold scabbard. Slender, but tall and commanding looking, he towered above those at his ide. He came forward with easy, graceful bearing, escorted by Senator Foraker and General Grosvenor, and took the place assigned for him next to that reserved for the president. At the same time the members of his suite in their showy uniforms who had followed him into the hall, were ushered into the seats directly in the rear of those reserved for members of the senate. The prince wore a band of mourning upon his left arm. This was not, however, in honor of the occasion, but was the badge of mourning still worn by the members of the German imperial family for his dead mother, the dowager empress of Germany.

As soon as all had again been seated the speaker's gavel once more brought the assemblage to its feet, and the members of the senate appeared headed by Senator Frye, the president pro tem. The senators took their seats immediately in the rear of the members of the diplomatic corps.

THE SUPREME COURT.

Next the doorkeeper announced the chief justice and associate justices of the supreme court and the stately and dignified judges swathed in their black robes and preceded by the marshal of the court, came solemnly down the aisle. The tall and commanding form of Justice Gray, who has recently been stricken with paralysis and who was always conspicuous by reason of his great size, was the only missing member of the court.

At this point the speaker announced that he would yield the gavel to Senator Frye, who, under the joint resolution providing for the memorial exercises, was to preside. Then came a pause, another signal followed and the president and members of his cabinet stood upon the threshold. As the president was announced the marine band in the lobby struck up "Hail to the Chief." President Roosevelt was accompanied down the aisle by Secretary Hay, the orator of the day, and followed immediately by his aides, Colonel Bingham of the army, and Major Gilmore, of the marine corps, each in full uniform. The other members of the cabinet came in the wake of these uniformed officers. The president was attired in a black frock coat, with grey trousers, and wore a mourning band of crepe upon his left arm. He took his place in the area facing the speaker's desk, with Prince Henry upon his right. With the latter he exchanged a word of greeting.

AN ILLUSTRIOUS GROUP.

The members of the cabinet, excepting Secretary Hay, who was the orator of the occasion and who was escorted to the clerk's desk immediately below the rostrum of the presiding officer, took their places to the right of the prince in the following order: Secretary of War Root, Attorney General Knox, Postmaster General Payne, Secretary of the Navy Long, Secretary of the Interior Hitchcock. Secretary Shaw, the latest acquisition to the cabinet, and Secretary Wilson, were absent.

All now being in readiness Senator Frye called the assemblage to order and after a fervent prayer by Rev. Dr. Couden, the blind chaplain of the house, he introduced the orator of the day. With impressive dignity Secretary Hay arose and placed upon the desk in front of him a roll of manuscript. The secretary's figure is slight and his scholarly face is usually pale, but today there was a flush upon the cheek. As he began to read with a slow, clear enunciation he seemed aware of the intense interest not alone in his subject, but in his own personality, as he read his tribute of love and loyalty to his departed chief.

Secretary Hay is not a finished orator in the strict acceptation of the term, but today his voice had unusually carrying power and he was able to make himself heard to the farthermost recesses of the hall. The purity of style and depth of thought of his composition fully compensated for whatever force was lacking in his delivery.

SECRETARY HAY'S ORATION.

His oration was as follows:

For the third time the congress of the United States are assembled to commemorate the life and the death of a president slain by the hand of an assassin. The attention of the future historian will be attracted to the features which reappear with startling sameness in all three of these awful crimes: The uselessness, the utter lack of consequence of the act; the obscurity, the insignificance of the criminal; the blamelessness—so far as in our sphere of existence the best of men may be held blameless—of the victim. Not one of our murdered presidents had an enemy in the world; they were all of such pre-eminent purity of life that no pretext could be given for the attack of passional crime; they were all men of democratic instincts who could never have offended the most jealous advocates of equality; they were of kindly and generous nature, to whom wrong or injustice was impossible; of moderate fortune, whose slender means nobody could envy. They were men of austere virtue of tender heart, of eminent abilities which they had devoted with single minds to the good of the republic. If ever men walked before God and man without blame, it was these three rulers of our people. The only temptation to attack their lives offered was their gentle radiance—to eyes hating the light that was offense enough.

The stupid uselessness of such an infamy affronts the common sense of the world. One can conceive how the death of a dictator may change the political conditions of an empire; how the extinction of a narrowing line of kings may bring in an alien dynasty. But in a well-ordered republic like ours, the ruler may fall, but the state feels no tremor. Our beloved and revered leader is gone—but the natural process of our laws provides us a successor, identical in purpose and ideals, nourished by the same teachings, inspired by the same principles, pledged by tender affection as well as by high loyalty to carry to completion the immense task committed to his hands, and to smite with iron severity every manifestation of that hideous crime which his mild predecessor, with his dying breath, forgave. The sayings of celestial wisdom have no date; the words that reach us, over two thousand years, out of the darkest hour of gloom the world has ever known, are true to the life today: "They know not what they do." The blow struck at our dear friend and ruler was as deadly as blind hate could make it; but the blow struck at anarchy was deadlier still.

RAISES INSOLUBLE PROBLEMS.

What a world of insoluble problems such an event excites in the mind! Not merely in its personal, but in its public aspects, it presents a paradox not to be comprehended. Under a system of government so free and so impartial that we recognize its existence only by its benefactions; under a social order so purely democratic that classes can not exist in it, affording opportunities so universal that even conditions are as changing as the winds, where the laborer of today is the capitalist of tomorrow; under laws which are the result of ages of evolution, so uniform and so beneficent that the president has just the same rights and privileges as the artisan; we see the same hellish growth of hatred and murder which dogs equally the footsteps of benevolent monarchs and blood-stained despots. How many countries can join with us in the community of a kindred sorrow; I will not speak of those distant regions where assassination enters into the daily life of government. But among the nations bound to us by the ties of familiar intercourse—who can forget that wise and mild autocrat who had earned the proud title of the liberator? That enlightened and magnanimous citizen whom France still mourns? That brave and chivalrous king of Italy who only lived for his people? And, saddest of all, that lovely and sorrowing empress, whose harmless life could hardly have excited the animosity of a demon. Against that devilish spirit nothing avails—neither virtue, nor patriotism, nor age nor youth, nor conscience nor pity. We can not even say that education is a sufficient safeguard against this baleful evil—for most of the wretches whose crimes have so shocked humanity in recent years are men not unlettered, who have gone from the common schools, through murder, to the scaffold.

THE LIFE OF M'KINLEY.

The life of William McKinley was, from his birth to his death, typically American. There is no environment, I should say, anywhere else in the world which could produce just such a character. He was born into that way of life which elsewhere is called the middle class, but which in this country is so nearly universal as to make of other classes an almost negligible quantity. He was neither rich nor poor, neither proud nor humble; he knew no hunger he was not sure of satisfying, no luxury which could enervate mind or body. His parents were sober, God-fearing people; intelligent and upright; without pretension and without humility. He grew up in the company of boys like himself; wholesome, honest, self-respecting. They looked down on nobody; they never felt it possible they could be looked down upon. Their houses were the homes of probity, piety, patriotism. They learned in the admirable school readers of fifty years ago the lessons of heroic and splendid life which have come down from the past. They read in their weekly newspapers the story of the world's progress, in which they were eager to take part, and of the sins and wrongs of civilization with which they burned to do battle. It was a serious and thoughtful time. The boys of that day felt dimly but deeply, that days of sharp struggle and high achievement were before them. They looked at life with the wondering yet resolute eyes of a young esquire in his vigil of arms. They felt a time was coming when to them should be addressed the stern admonition of the apostle, "Quit you like men; be strong."

Mr. Hay then touched upon the feeling which possessed the north at the breaking out of the rebellion, young McKinley's enlistment, the high character of his service, his return from the war, his study for and engagement of practice in the law, his talents and his predilection for politics, his election to congress, his services as a congressman, his political and economic principles, his force as a debater, his grasp of great questions, his growing popularity, and the gerrymander in his Ohio district which legislated him out of congress. Continuing the speaker said:

Someone has said it is easy to love our enemies; they help us so much more than our friends. The people whose malevolent skill had turned McKinley out of congress deserved well of him and of the republic. Never was Nemesis more swift and energetic. The republicans of Ohio were saved the trouble of choosing a governor—the other side chose one for them. A year after McKinley left congress he was made governor of Ohio, and two years later he was re-elected, each time by majorities unhoped-for and overwhelming. He came to fill a place in the public eye which obscured a great portion of the field of vision. In two national conventions, the presidency seemed within his reach. But he had gone there in the interest of others and his honor forbade any dalliance with temptation. So his nay was nay—delivered with a tone and gesture there was no denying. His hour was not yet come.

GROWTH OF M'KINLEY.

There was, however, no long delay. He became, from year to year, the most eminent politician and orator in the country. Passionately devoted to the principles of his party, he was always ready to do anything, to go anywhere, to proclaim its ideas and to support its candidates. His face and his voice became familiar to millions of our people; and wherever they were seen and heard, men became his partisans. His face was cast in a classic mold; you see faces like it in antique marble in the galleries of the Vatican and in the portraits of the great cardinal-statesmen of Italy; his voice was the voice of the perfect orator—ringing, vibrating, tireless, persuading by its very sound, by its accent of sincere conviction. So prudent and so guarded were all his utterances, so lofty his courtesy, that he never embarrassed his friends, and never offended his opponents. For several months before the republican national convention met in 1896, it was evident to all who had eyes to see that Mr. McKinley was the only probable candidate of his party. Other names were mentioned, of the highest rank in ability, character, and popularity; they were supported by powerful combinations; but the nomination of McKinley as against the field was inevitable.

The campaign he made will be always memorable in our political annals. He and his friends had thought that the issue for the year was the distinctive and historic difference between the two parties on the subject of the tariff. To this wager of battle the discussions of the previous four years distinctly pointed. But no sooner had the two parties made their nominations than it became evident that the opposing candidate declined to accept the field of discussion chosen by the republicans, and proposed to put forward as the main issue the free coinage of silver. Mr. McKinley at once accepted this challenge, and, taking the battle for protection as already won, went with energy into the discussion of the theories presented by his opponents. He had wisely concluded not to leave his home during the canvass, thus avoiding a proceeding which has always been of sinister augury in our politics; but from the front porch of his modest house in Canton he daily addressed the delegations which came from every part of the country to greet him in a series of speeches so strong, so varied, so pertinent, so full of facts briefly set forth, of theories embodied in a single phrase, that they formed the hourly text for the other speakers of his party, and give probably the most convincing proof we have of his surprising fertility of resource and flexibility of mind. All this was done without anxiety or strain. I remember a day I spent with him during that busy summer. He had made nineteen speeches the day before; that day he made many. In the intervals of these addresses he sat in his study and talked, with nerves as quiet and a mind as free from care as if we had been spending a holiday at the seaside or among the hills.

HE FACED A CRISIS.

When he came to the presidency he confronted a situation of the utmost difficulty, which might well have appalled a man of less serene and tranquil self-confidence. There had been a state of profound commercial and industrial depression, from which his friends had said his election would relieve the country. Our relations with the outside world left much to be desired. The feeling between the northern and southern sections of the union was lacking in the cordiality which was necessary to the welfare of both. Hawaii had asked for annexation and had been rejected by the preceding administration. There was a state of things in the Caribbean which could not permanently endure. Our neighbor's house was on fire, and there were grave doubts as to our rights and duties in the premises. A man either weak or rash, either resolute or headstrong, might have brought ruin on himself and incalculable harm to the country.

Again I crave the pardon of those who differ with me, if, against all my intentions, I happen to say a word which may seem to them unbecoming the place and hour. But I am here to give the opinion which his friends entertained of President McKinley, of course claiming no immunity from criticism in what I shall say. I believe, then, that the verdict of history will be that he met all these grave questions with perfect valor and incomparable ability; that in grappling with them he rose to the full height of a great occasion, in a manner which redounded to the lasting benefit of the country and to his own immortal honor.

The next desirable form of glory to a man of his habitual mood and temper—that of successful war—was nevertheless conferred upon him by uncontrollable events.

AGAIN AT CAPITAL

PRINCE HENRY RETURNS TO WASHINGTON.

TO SEE POINTS OF INTEREST

PAYS A VISIT TO THE TOMB OF WASHINGTON.

AT BANQUET OF THE EDITORS

GUEST OF HONOR AT NOTABLE AFFAIR IN NEW YORK.

Washington, Feb. 27.—The second chapter in the national capital's welcome to Prince Henry of Prussia began today. Arriving at 9 o'clock this morning, he and his suite at noon attended the McKinley memorial services at the capitol and at their conclusion made a flying trip to pay tribute to the memory of the father of his country at Mount Vernon. He will be the guest of President Roosevelt at a dinner at the white house tonight. The weather this forenoon was delightful.

CROWD AT THE EMBASSY.

At the German embassy a large crowd also had gathered. The embassy was again handsomely decorated with the imperial colors and with garlands of myrtle and pine. At 9:15 o'clock the cavalry escort, consisting of troops F and G, Second cavalry, galloped up Massachusetts avenue and swung into battalion front facing the embassy. Prince Henry drove up in an open carriage, nodding and smiling in recognition of the applause and returning each military salute. Assistant Secretary of State Hill sat beside him, with Captain Cowles, naval aide to President Roosevelt, on the other seat. The guard of honor of ten strapping United States engineers brought their guns to present as he stepped inside. On the threshold of the embassy the prince paused, and facing the long line of troops with saluting sabers and the knots of ladies who had braved their way through the lines, gave a sweeping bow as he turned and went inside.

Within the embassy the prince had at his disposal the handsome suite of apartments on the first floor. Here there was opportunity for a brief rest from the constant round of festivities. There were no formalities during the morning.

WON HONORS AT CHESS.

In the North Dakota state chess tournament just held at Grand Forks, Fred M. Willson, formerly of this city, won signal honors, securing five straight games against some of the experts of that state. Mr. Willson was well known among Fort Wayne chess players before removing to the west. He is a son of M. S. Willson, of this city.

WILL EXEMPLIFY DEGREE.

The splendid degree staff from Ben Hur court No. 15 will exemplify the degree at Huntington next Tuesday evening, when a large number of members of the order from this city will be guests of the Huntington court. The trip will be made over the interurban line.

ABOUT THE COURT HOUSE.

No cases were set for trial in the circuit court today and the entire day was put in in making up issues of docketed cases.

Judge Aiken this morning granted Mary Buhr a divorce from Henry Buhr. The complaint alleged abandonment and failure to provide. The defendant went to the Klondike several years ago and it is alleged has been fortunate. All this did not get the plaintiff anything, who thought she would rather have a divorce for sure than a prospect up north.

Mary McCoy sues Henrietta Thompson for damages in the sum of $2,500. The defendant owns a tenement house on Superior street and the plaintiff is a tenant occupying part of the dwelling. The complaint alleges that the plaintiff fell on a defective step, part of the building, and broke her leg, and further alleges that the accident was due to no neglect on the part of the plaintiff, but to negligence on the part of the defendant, wherefor damages in the above named amount is asked for.

The superior court was today again engaged in hearing evidence in the Leininger will case. Save the Buhr divorce case, above referred to, no other business reached the attention of the court.

MANY MEETINGS TONIGHT.

Cottage prayer meetings of the Bethany Presbyterian parish will be held in the following homes this evening: Frank Longsworth, 298 West Main street; George Stover, 355 West Main street; Charles Compton, 432 West Main street; Fred Bacon, 64 Runion avenue; Mrs. Frances Boseker, corner Runion avenue and Richardson street; Samuel S. Deahl, St. Mary's avenue, near High street.

MARRIAGE LICENSES.

Earl A. Bryan and Jennie Hughes.

ELECTED STATE OFFICERS

ROYAL LEAGUE ADVISORY COUNCIL ADJOURNS.

Visitors Were Given a Social Session by Fort Wayne Members Wednesday Evening.

The state advisory council of the Royal League, in session at Harmony hall, has completed its labors and adjourned. Officers for the ensuing year were elected as follows:

Past Archon—John T. Leach, of Fort Wayne.

Advisory Archon—George L. Mueller, of Lafayette.

Vice Archon—E. H. Waldo, of Anderson.

Treasurer—N. R. Howard, of Lafayette.

Scribe—Charles Darling, of Indianapolis.

Delegate to Supreme Council—John T. Leach, of Fort Wayne.

Alternate—Frank L. Henson, of Hammond.

Finance Committee—E. R. S. Seguin, of Indianapolis; Dr. E. G. Prall, of Indianapolis; C. A. Burchard, of Fort Wayne.

W. S. Wells, of this city, continues in office as supreme sentry. Representatives from the councils of Fort Wayne, Indianapolis, Richmond, Terre Haute, Lafayette, Anderson, Hammond, Muncie and Goshen were present and the most important matters of the business session was the recommendation of certain changes to the supreme council.

These favor the prorating of all additional council dues, expenses, etc., among the regular assessments, thus making a unifrom monthly payment; to inaugurate a hazard rate of insurance liability, so that members who change their occupations and enter one of the prohibited employments may continue to carry their insurance; to enlarge the powers, duties and revenues of the advisory council, and to provide for the formation of a women's auxiliary to the league.

Last evening the visiting members were guests of the members of Old Fort and Anthony Wayne councils in an enjoyable social session. Caterer George Ohneck served an elegant repast. E. H. Waldo, of Anderson, was toastmaster, and responses were made by nearly all the members, and by Supreme Archon Piper, of Chicago, who was a guest of honor.

Following the banquet a program of recitations and addresses fully two hours in length was highly enjoyed. Past Archon J. T. Leach, of this city, presided. Among those who delivered addresses were Supreme Orator H. P. Rountree, of Chicago; Supreme Archon Piper, of Chicago; Advisory Archon Mueller, Vice Archon Waldo, Secretary Darling, Messrs. Tigar, Henson and others. There are nearly two hundred Royal Leaguers in this city, and both councils are growing rapidly. Most of the visitors left for their homes this morning.

LOCAL LINES.

Miss Ada Moore entertained the M. C. C. club and their gentlemen friends last evening.

Dr. Budd Van Sweringen attended a meeting of the Chicago Medical society at Chicago yesterday.

Mrs. James A. Foster, of Edgewater avenue, entertained this afternoon in honor of Miss Jennie Markley, of Wabash.

Mrs. W. G. Page, of 308 West Williams street, is entertaining a number of friends at a quilting party this afternoon.

Mrs. Smith, of Pierceton, arrived in the city this afternoon for a visit with her daughter, Mrs. C. H. Meek, of West Jefferson street.

Mrs. A. L. Knight, of 78 Montgomery street, will entertain the ladies of the J. F. P. club and their husbands at an oyster supper this evening.

Among the Fort Wayne gentlemen who expect to attend the automobile show in the Auditorium at Chicago next week are Messrs. Will Peltier, Dr. Ross, E. B. Kunkle, A. L. Randall, Will Bostick and Harry Pickard.

DESPERATE FIGHT

BOERS TRY TO GO THROUGH BRITISH OUTPOST LINE.

MADE A FIERCE ONSLAUGHT

FOUGHT FROM CARCASSES OF THEIR SLAIN CATTLE.

WERE FINALLY BEATEN OFF

LOST FIFTEEN MEN AND ALL OF HERD OF 6,000.

London, Feb. 27.—The attack made by the Boers to rush the outpost line near Bothasburg, Transvaal colony, during the night of February 23, reported in General Kitchener's dispatch yesterday, was most determined. The Boers were led by two well known fighters, Ross Hands and Manie Botha. When the Boers realized that their attempt to actually break through the wire fences was frustrated, they crouched beside the cattle killed by the British fire, and with which the ground was thickly strewn, and from that defense poured a heavy fire on the British troops. The fusilade was steadily returned and finally the Boers were driven back, leaving fifteen dead and six wounded on the field.

They also left 170 dead or wounded horses and the entire herd of 6,000 head of cattle.

STRUCK WITH BAR OF IRON

SYRIAN LABORERS FARE BADLY IN A FIGHT.

Colored Man Wanted for the Assault —All Concerned Work at Bass Foundry—Police Notes.

, Yesterday afternoon Abd Elfataah and Salem Bander sustained several and sundry swipes alongside of their respective heads. The swipes were delivered from the hard side of a bar of iron in the hands of a colored gentleman whose name on the affidavit appears simply as Mr. Johnson, and the whole crowd is in the employ of the Bass works, at which establishment the fracas occurred. Abd got a pretty hard bump and had to be taken to his home at 15 Lafayette street by the patrol wagon, where he received medical attendance to the extent of a dozen or so stitches required to keep his head from falling apart. Salem was more fortunate and required only two stitches to rest his scalp, which was knocked out of plumb at a point directly over the left eye. Salem came into police court this morning and signed two affidavits against Mr. Johnson charging assault and battery on himself and his battered friend, Mr. Elfataah. Warrants were issued for Johnson and the case will be tried as soon as the assailant is captured. Salem insists that there were about ten colored men mixed up in the fight and that all of them jumped on to him at once; he also insists that he cannot imagine what the fight started about, but remembers distinctly that a very industrious bar hit him on the head just as the sunlight gave out.

Four tramps who applied for lodging last night were accommodated and this morning were given two hours to get out of town. They were not slated.

George Roux's slaughter house, east of the city, was broken into several nights ago. The east end gang of burglars should be looked after by some organizing committee. The whole crowd seems to be working overtime.

A bad gas leak was reported this morning at the corner of Broadway and Taylor street.

"Bottle" Bates allowed his horse and wagon to stand on Wayne street yesterday while he went to tell somebody how it happened, and while he was gone somebody stole a lot of rubber and several empty beer kegs from his load.

LEG BROKEN BY A LOG.

Mick Wuercen, of 226 Francis street, employed in the saw mill of Smith & Randall, had his right leg broken while rolling logs this morning. A number of the logs were being shifted from a pile by means of skids and one of them struck Wuercen, who was standing at the foot of the skidway, breaking his leg just above the ankle. Dr. J. W. McCausland reduced the fracture.

HOME FROM GERMANY.

Conrad Bauss arrived in the city last evening from a tour abroad, in the course of which he visited his former home in Saxony, Germany. Mr. Bauss has been absent twelve weeks, and he made a similar trip fourteen years ago. Two nieces and a nephew returned with him, and will make their future home in this city.

Harry A. Eberline is in Indianapolis in the interest of the W. L. Carnahan company.

'TIS TRUE

THE PROOF LIES IN FORT WAYNE TESTIMONY.

It is not hard to prove the claims made for Doan's Kidney Pills. Scores of people in Fort Wayne testify to their merit. Surely the evidence from friends and neighbors, plain statements of their experience, is better proof than the testimony of people residing in some far-away place. Read the following:

Mrs. E. Conklin, of 41 Miner street, says: "I did not have much backache, but there were other symptoms of kidney complaint which were annoying and distressing. It is not necessary to speak of the misery they caused me, as anyone who has ever had kidney disorders can perfectly understand what I suffered. I noticed one day an article in the paper about Doan's Kidney Pills, so the first time I went down street I called at Meyer Bros. & Co.'s drug store and got a box. I took them as directed and I am pleased to state that they did me a great deal of good. Doan's Kidney Pills are a remedy that can be depended upon to do all that is claimed for them."

He felt it must come; he deplored its necessity; he strained almost to breaking his relations with his friends, in order, first, to prevent and then to postpone it to the latest possible moment. But when the die was cast, he labored with the utmost energy and ardor, and with an intelligence in military matters which showed how much of the soldier still survived in the mature statesman to push forward the war to a decisive close. War was an anguish to him; he wanted it short and conclusive. His merciful zeal communicated itself to his subordinates, and the war, so long dreaded, whose consequences were so momentous, ended in a hundred days.

GAINED LOFTY TITLE.

Mr. Stedman, the dean of our poets, has called him "Augmenter of the State." If is a proud title; if justly conferred, it ranks him among the few whose names may be placed definitely and forever in charge of the historic Muse. Under his rule Hawaii has come to us, and Tutuila; Porto Rico and the vast archipelago of the east. Cuba is free. Our position in the Caribbean is assured beyond the possibility of future question. The doctrine called by the name of Monroe, so long derided and denied by alien publicists, evokes now no challenge or contradiction when uttered to the world. It has become an international truism. Our sister republics to the south of us are convinced that we desire only their peace and prosperity. Europe knows that we cherish no dreams but those of world-wide commerce, the benefit of which shall be to all nations. The state is augmented, but it threatens no nation under heaven. As to those regions which have come under the shadow of our flag, the possibility of their being damaged by such a change of circumstances was in the view of McKinley a thing unthinkable. To believe that we could not administer them to their advantage, was to turn infidel to our American faith of more than a hundred years.

In dealing with foreign powers, he will take rank with the greatest of our diplomatists. It was a world of which he had little special knowledge before coming to the presidency. But his marvelous adaptability was in nothing more remarkable than in the firm grasp he immediately displayed in international relations. In preparing for war and in the restoration of peace he was alike adroit, courteous, and far-sighted. When a sudden emergency declared itself, as in China, in a state of things of which our history furnished no precedent and international law no safe and certain precept, he hesitated not a moment to take the course marked out for him by considerations of humanity and the national interests. Even while the legations were fighting for their lives against bands of infuriated fanatics, he decided that we were at peace with China; and while that conclusion did not hinder him from taking the most energetic measures to rescue our imperiled citizens, it enabled him to maintain close and friendly relations with the wise and heroic viceroys of the south, whose resolute stand saved that ancient empire from anarchy and spoliation. He disposed of every question as it arose with a promptness and clarity of vision that astonished his advisers, and he never had occasion to review a judgment or reverse a decision.

By patience, by firmness, by sheer reasonableness, he improved our understanding with all the great powers of the world, and rightly gained the blessing which belongs to the peacemakers.

ECONOMICAL DEVELOPMENTS.

But the achievements of the nation in war and diplomacy are thrown in the shade by the vast economical developments which took place during Mr. McKinley's administration. Up to the time of his first election, the country was suffering from a long period of depression, the reasons of which I will not try to seek. But from the moment the ballots were counted that betokened his advent to power a great and momentous movement in advance declared itself along all the lines of industry and commerce. In the very month of his inauguration steel rails began to be sold at $18 a ton—one of the most significant facts of modern times. It meant that American industries had adjusted themselves to the long depression—that through the power of the race to organize and combine, stimulated by the conditions then prevailing, and perhaps by the prospect of legislation favorable to industry, America had begun to undersell the rest of the world. The movement went on without ceasing. The president and his party kept the pledges of their platform and their canvass. The Dingley bill was speedily framed and set in operation. All industries responded to the new stimulus and American trade set out on its new crusade, not to conquer the world, but to trade with it on terms advantageous to all concerned. I will not weary you with statistics; but one or two words seem necessary to show how the acts of McKinley as president kept pace with his professions as candidate. His four years of administration were costly; we carried on a war which, though brief, was expensive. Although we borrowed two hundred millions and paid our own expenses, without asking for indemnity, the effective reduction of the debt now exceeds the total of the war bonds. We pay six millions less in interest than we did before the war and no bond of the United States yields the holder 2 per cent on its market value. So much for the government credit; and we have five hundred and forty-six millions of gross gold in the treasury.

But, coming to the development of our trade in the four McKinley years, we seem to be entering the realm of fable. In the last fiscal year our excess of exports over imports was $664,592,326. In the last four years it was $2,354,442,213. These figures are so stupendous that they mean little to a careless reader—but consider! The excess of exports over imports for the whole preceding period from 1799 to 1897—from Washington to McKinley—was only $336,508,832.

The most extravagant promises made by the sanguine McKinley advocates five years ago are left out of sight by these sober facts. The "debtor nation" has become the chief creditor nation. The financial center of the world, which required thousands of years to journey from the Euphrates to the Thames and the Seine, seems passing to the Hudson between daybreak and dark.

I will not waste your time by explaining that I do not invoke for any man the credit of this vast result. The captain can not claim that it is he who drives the mighty steamship over the tumbling billows of the trackless deep; but praise is justly due him if he has made the best of her tremendous powers, if he has read aright the currents of the sea and the lessons of the stars. And we should be ungrateful, if in this hour of prodigious prosperity we should fail to remember that William McKinley with sublime faith foresaw it, with indomitable courage labored for it, put his whole heart and mind into the work of bringing it about; that it was his voice which, in dark hours, rang out, heralding the coming light, as over the twilight waters of the Nile the mystic cry of Memnon announced the dawn to Egypt, waking from sleep.

MCKINLEY AND THE SOUTH.

Among the most agreeable incidents of the president's term of office were the two journeys he made to the south. The moral reunion of the sections—so long and so ardently desired by him—had been initiated by the Spanish war, when the veterans of both sides, and their sons, had marched shoulder to shoulder together under the same banner. The president in these journeys sought, with more than usual eloquence and pathos, to create a sentiment which should end forever the ancient feud. He was too good a politician to expect any results in the way of votes in his favor, and he accomplished none. But for all that the good seed did not fall on barren ground. In the warm and chivalrous hearts of that generous people, the echo of his cordial and brotherly words will linger long, and his name will be cherished in many a household where even yet the Lost Cause is worshiped.

Mr. McKinley was re-elected by an overwhelming majority. There had been little doubt of the result among well-informed people; but when it was known, a profound feeling of relief and renewal of trust were evident among the leaders of capital and of industry, not only in this country, but everywhere. They felt that the immediate future was secure, and that trade and commerce might safely push forward in every field of effort and enterprise. He inspired universal confidence, which is the lifeblood of the commercial system of the world. It began frequently to be said that such a state of things ought to continue; one after another, men of prominence said that the president was his own best successor. He paid little attention to these suggestions until they were repeated by some of his nearest friends. The he saw that one of the most cherished traditions of our public life was in danger. The generation which has seen the prophecy of the Papal throne—Non videbis annos Petri—twice contradicted by the longevity of holy men was in peril of forgetting the unwritten law of our republic: Thou shalt not exceed the years of Washington. The president saw it was time to speak, and in his characteristic manner he spoke, briefly, but enough. Where the lightning strikes there is no need of iteration. From that hour, no one dreamed of doubting his purpose of retiring at the end of his second term, and it will be long before another such lesson is required.

He felt that the harvest time was come, to garner in the fruits of so much planting and culture, and he was determined that nothing he might do or say should be liable to the reproach of a personal interest. Let us say frankly he was a party man; he believed the policies advocated by him and his friends counted for much in the country's progress and prosperity. He hoped in his second term to accomplish substantial results in the development and affirmation of those policies. I spent a day with him shortly before he started on his fateful journey to Buffalo. Never had I seen him higher in hope and patriotic confidence. He was as sure of the future of his country as the Psalmist who cried "Glorious things are spoken of thee, thou City of God." He was gratified to the heart that we had arranged a treaty which gave us a free hand in the Isthmus. In fancy he saw the canal already built and the argosies of the world passing through it in peace and amity. He saw in the immense evolution of American trade the fulfillment of all his dreams, the reward of all his labors. He was—I need not say—an ardent protectionist, never more sincere and devoted than during those last days of his life. He regarded reciprocity as the bulwark of protection—not a breach, but a fulfillment of the law.

The treaties which for four years had been preparing under his personal supervision he regarded as ancillary to the general scheme. He was opposed to any revolutionary plan of change in the existing legislation; he was careful to point out that everything he had done was in faithful compliance with the law itself.

THE PRESIDENT AT BUFFALO.

In that mood of high hope, of generous expectation, he went to Buffalo, and there, on the threshold of eternity, he delivered that memorable speech, worthy for its loftiness of tone, its blameless morality, its breadth of view, to be regarded as his testament to the nation. Through all his pride of country and his joy of its success, runs the note of solemn warning, as in Kipling's noble hymn, "Lest we forget."

I wish I had time to read the whole of this wise and weighty speech; nothing I might say could give such a picture of the president's mind and character. His years of apprenticeship had been served. He stood that day past master of the art of statesmanship. He had nothing more to ask of the people. He owed them nothing but truth and faithful service. His mind and heart were purged of the temptations which beset all men engaged in the struggle to survive. In view of the revelation of his nature vouchsafed to us that day, and the fate which impended over him, we can only say in deep affection and solemn awe, "Blessed are the pure in heart, for they shall see God." Even for that vision he was not unworthy.

He had not long to wait. The next day sped the bolt of doom, and for a week after—in an agony of dread broken by illusive glimpses of hope that our prayers might be answered—the nation waited for the end. Nothing in the glorious life that we saw gradually waning was more admirable and exemplary than its close. The gentle humanity of his words, when he saw his assailant in danger of summary vengeance, "Don't let them hurt him;" his chivalrous care that the news should be broken gently to his wife; the fine courtesy with which he apologized for the damage which his death would bring to the great exhibition; and the heroic resignation of his final words, "It is God's way. His will, not ours, be done," were all the instinctive expressions of a nature so lofty and so pure that pride in its nobility at once softened and enhanced the nation's sense of loss. The republic grieved over such a son—but is proud forever of having produced him. After all, in spite of its tragic ending, his life was extraordinarily happy. He had, all his days, troops of friends, the cheer of fame and fruitful labor; and he became at last:—

"On fortune's crowning slope,
"The pillar of a people's hope,
"The center of a world's desire."

FORTUNATE IN HIS DEATH.

He was fortunate even in his untimely death, for an event so tragical called the world imperatively to the immediate study of his life and character, and thus anticipated the sure praises of posterity.

Every young and growing people has to meet, at moments, the problems of its des-

requires physical and mental ability of a high degree to withstand its hard labors. The high tension to which the nervous system is constantly subjected, has a depressing effect, and soon headache, backache, neuralgia, rheumatism, sciatica, etc., develop in severe form. Such was the case of Mail Carrier S. F. Sweinhart, of Huntsville, Ala., he says:

"An attack of pneumonia left me with muscular rheumatism, headache, and pains that seemed to be all over me. I was scarcely able to move for about a month when I decided to give Dr. Miles' Pain Pills and Nerve Plasters a trial. In three days I was again on my route and in two weeks I was free from pain and gaining in flesh and strength."

THE LAST HEARD OF IT.

"My little boy took the croup one night and soon grew so bad you could hear him breathe all over the house," says F. D. Reynolds, Mansfield, O. "We feared he would die, but a few doses of One Minute Cough Cure quickly relieved him and he went to sleep. That's the last we heard of the croup. Now isn't a cough cure like that valuable?" One Minute Cough Cure is absolutely safe and acts immediately. For coughs, colds, croup, grip, bronchitis and all other throat and lung troubles it is a certain cure. Very pleasant to take. The little ones like it. Meyer Bros. & Co.

CLERK'S WISE SUGGESTION.

"I have lately been much troubled with dyspepsia, belching and sour stomach," writes M. S. Mead, leading pharmacist of Attleboro, Mass. "I could eat hardly anything without suffering several hours. My clerk suggested I try Kodol Dyspepsia Cure, which I did, with most happy results. I have had no more trouble and when one can go to eating mince pie, cheese, candy and nuts after such a time, their digestion must be pretty good. I endorse Kodol Dyspepsia Cure heartily." You don't have to diet. Eat all the good food you want but don't overload the stomach. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure digests your food. Meyer Bros. & Co.

'TIS TRUE

THE PROOF LIES IN FORT WAYNE TESTIMONY.

It is not hard to prove the claims made for Doan's Kidney Pills. Scores of people in Fort Wayne testify to their merit. Surely the evidence from friends and neighbors, plain statements of their experience, is better proof than the testimony of people residing in some far-away place. Read the following:

Mrs. E. Conklin, of 41 Miner street, says: "I did not have much backache, but there were other symptoms of kidney complaint which were annoying and distressing. It is not necessary to speak of the misery they caused me, as anyone who has ever had kidney disorders can perfectly understand what I suffered. I noticed one day an article in the paper about Doan's Kidney Pills, so the first time I went down street I called at Meyer Bros. & Co.'s drug store and got a box. I took them as directed and I am pleased to state that they did me a great deal of good. Doan's Kidney Pills are a remedy that can be depended upon to do all that is claimed for them."

He felt it must come; he deplored its necessity; he strained almost to breaking his relations with his friends, in order, first, to prevent and then to postpone it to the latest possible moment. But when the die was cast, he labored with the utmost energy and ardor, and with an intelligence in military matters which showed how much of the soldier still survived in the mature statesman to push forward the war to a decisive close. War was an anguish to him; he wanted it short and conclusive. His merciful zeal communicated itself to his subordinates, and the war, so long dreaded, whose consequences were so momentous, ended in a hundred days.

GAINED LOFTY TITLE.

Mr. Stedman, the dean of our poets, has called him "Augmenter of the State." It is a proud title; it justly conferred. It ranks him among the few whose names may be placed definitely and forever in charge of the historic Muse. Under his rule Hawaii has come to us, and Tutuila; Porto Rico and the vast archipelago of the east. Cuba is free. Our position in the Caribbean is assured beyond the possibility of future question. The doctrine called by the name of Monroe, so long derided and denied by alien publicists, evokes now no challenge or contradiction when uttered to the world. It has become an international truism. Our sister republics to the south of us are convinced that we desire only their peace and prosperity. Europe knows that we cherish no dreams but those of world-wide commerce, the benefit of which shall be to all nations. The state is augmented, but it threatens no nation under heaven. As to those regions which have come under the shadow of our flag, the possibility of their being damaged by such a change of circumstances was in the view of McKinley a thing unthinkable. To believe that we could not administer them to their advantage, was to turn infidel to our American faith of more than a hundred years.

In dealing with foreign powers, he will take rank with the greatest of our diplomatists. It was a world of which he had little special knowledge before coming to the presidency. But his marvelous adaptability was in nothing more remarkable than in the firm grasp he immediately displayed in international relations. In preparing for war and in the restoration of peace he was alike adroit, courteous, and far-sighted. When a sudden emergency declared itself, as in China, in a state of things of which our history furnished no precedent and international law no safe and certain precept, he hesitated not a moment to take the course marked out for him by considerations of humanity and the national interests. Even while the legations were fighting for their lives against hands of infuriated fanatics, he decided that we were at peace with China; and while that conclusion did not hinder him from taking the most energetic measures to rescue our imperiled citizens, it enabled him to maintain close and friendly relations with the wise and heroic viceroys of the south, whose resolute stand saved that ancient empire from anarchy and spoliation. He disposed of every question as it arose with a promptness and clarity of vision that astonished his advisers, and he never had occasion to review a judgment or reverse a decision.

By patience, by firmness, by sheer reasonableness, he improved our understanding with all the great powers of the world, and rightly gained the blessing which belongs to the peacemakers.

ECONOMICAL DEVELOPMENTS.

But the achievements of the nation in war and diplomacy are thrown in the shade by the vast economical developments which took place during Mr. McKinley's administration. Up to the time of his first election, the country was suffering from a long period of depression, the reasons of which are so stupendous that they mean little to a careless reader—but consider! The excess of exports over imports for the whole preceding period from 1789 to 1897—from Washington to McKinley—was only $356,803,822.

The most extravagant promises made by the sanguine McKinley advocates five years ago are left out of sight by these sober facts. The "debtor nation" has become the chief creditor nation. The financial center of the world, which required thousands of years to journey from the Euphrates to the Thames and the Seine, seems passing to the Hudson between daybreak and dark.

I will not waste your time by explaining that I do not invoke for any man the credit of this vast result. The captain can not claim that it is he who drives the mighty steamship over the tumbling billows of the trackless deep; but praise is justly due him if he has made the best of her tremendous powers, if he has read aright the currents of the sea and the lessons of the stars. And we should be ungrateful, if in this hour of prodigious prosperity we should fail to remember that William McKinley with sublime faith foresaw it, with indomitable courage labored for it, put his whole heart and mind into the work of bringing it about; that it was his voice which, in dark hours, rang out, heralding the coming light, as over the twilight waters of the Nile the mystic cry of Memnon announced the dawn to Egypt, waking from sleep.

MCKINLEY AND THE SOUTH.

Among the most agreeable incidents of the president's term of office were the two journeys he made to the south. The moral reunion of the sections—so long and so ardently desired by him—had been initiated by the Spanish war, when the veterans of both sides, and their sons, had marched shoulder to shoulder together under the same banner. The president in these journeys sought, with more than usual eloquence and pathos, to create a sentiment which should end forever the ancient feud. He was too good a politician to expect any results in the way of votes in his favor, and he accomplished none. But for all that the good seed did not fall on barren ground. In the warm and chivalrous hearts of that generous people, the echo of his cordial and brotherly words will linger long, and his name will be cherished in many a household where even yet the Lost Cause is worshiped.

Mr. McKinley was re-elected by an overwhelming majority. There had been little doubt of the result among well-informed people; but when it was known, a profound feeling of relief and renewal of trust were evident among the leaders of capital and of industry, not only in this country, but everywhere. They felt that the immediate future was secure, and that trade and commerce might safely push forward in every field of effort and enterprise. He inspired universal confidence, which is the lifeblood of the commercial system of the world. It began frequently to be said that such a state of things ought to continue; one after another, men of prominence said that the president was his own best successor. He paid little attention to these suggestions until they were repeated by some of his nearest friends. Then he saw that one of the most cherished traditions of our public life was in danger. The generation which has seen the prophecy of the Papal throne—Non videbis annos Petri—twice contradicted by the longevity of holy men was in peril of forgetting the unwritten law of our republic: Thou shalt not exceed the years of Washington. The president saw it was time to speak, and in his characteristic manner he spoke, briefly, but enough. Where the lightning strikes there is no need of iteration. From that hour, no one dreamed of doubting his purpose of retiring at the end of his second term, and it will be long before another such lesson is required.

He felt that the harvest time was come, to garner in the fruits at so much planting and culture, and he was determined that nothing he might do or say should be liable to the reproach of a personal interest. Let us say frankly he was a party man; he believed the policies advocated by him and his friends counted for much in the country's progress and prosperity. He hoped in his second term to accomplish substantial results in the development and affirmation of those policies. I spent a day with him shortly before he started on his fateful journey to Buffalo. Never had I seen him higher in hope and patriotic confidence. He was as sure of the future of his country as the Psalmist who cried "Glorious things are spoken of thee, thou City of God." He was gratified to the heart that we had arranged a treaty which gave us a free hand in the Isthmus. In fancy he saw the canal already built and the argosies of the world passing through it in peace and amity. He saw in the immense evolution of American trade the fulfillment of all his dreams the reward of all his labors. He was—I need not say—an ardent protectionist, never more sincere and devoted than during these last days of his life. He regarded reciprocity as the bulwark of protection—not a breach, but a fulfillment of the law.

The treaties which for four years had been preparing under his personal supervision he regarded as ancillary to the general scheme. He was opposed to any revolutionary plan of change in the existing legislation; he was careful to point out that everything he had done was in faithful compliance with the law itself.

THE PRESIDENT AT BUFFALO.

In that mood of high hope of generous expectation, he went to Buffalo, and there, on the threshold of eternity, he delivered that memorable speech, worthy for its loftiness of tone, its blameless morality, its breadth of view to be regarded as his testament to the nation. Through all his pride of country and his joy of its success, runs the note of solemn warning, as in Kipling's noble hymn, "Lest we forget."

I wish I had time to read the whole of this wise and weighty speech; nothing I might say could give such a picture of the president's mind at this climax. His years of apprenticeship had been served. He stood that day past master of the art of statesmanship. He had nothing more to ask of the people. He owed them nothing but truth and faithful service. His mind and heart were purged of the temptations which beset all men engaged in the struggle to survive. In view of the revelation of his nature vouchsafed to us that day, and the fate which impended over him, we can only say in deep affection and solemn awe, "Blessed are the pure in heart, for they shall see God." Even for that vision he was not unworthy.

He had not long to wait. The next day sped the bolt of doom, and for a week after—in an agony of dread broken by illusive glimpses of hope that our prayers might be answered—the nation waited for the end. Nothing in the glorious life that we saw gradually waning was more admirable and exemplary than its close. The gentle humanity of his words, when he saw his assailant in danger of summary vengeance, "Don't let them hurt him;" his chivalrous care that the news should be broken gently to his wife; the fine courtesy with which he apologized for the damage which his death would bring to the great exhibition, and the heroic resignation of his final words, "It is God's way. His will, not ours, be done," were all the instinctive expressions of a nature as lofty and so pure that pride in its nobility at once softened and enhanced the nation's sense of loss. The republic grieved over such a son—but is proud forever of having produced him. After all, in spite of its tragic ending, his life was extraordinarily happy. He had, all his days, troops of friends, the cheer of fame and fruitful labor; and he became at last—

"On fortune's crowning slope,
The pillar of a people's hope,
The center of a world's desire."

FORTUNATE IN HIS DEATH.

He was fortunate even in his untimely death, for an event so tragical called the world imperatively to the immediate study of his life and character, and thus anticipated the sure praises of posterity.

Every young and growing people has to meet, at moments, the problems of its des-

requires physical and mental ability of a high degree to withstand its hard labors. The high tension to which the nervous system is constantly subjected, has a depressing effect, and soon headache, backache, neuralgia, rheumatism, sciatica, etc., develop in severe form. Such was the case of Mail Carrier S. F. Swoinhart, of Huntsville, Ala., he says:

"An attack of pneumonia left me with muscular rheumatism, headache, and pains that seemed to be all over me. I was scarcely able to move for about a month when I decided to give Dr. Miles' Pain Pills and Nerve Plasters a trial. In three days I was again on my route and in two weeks I was free from pain and gaining in flesh and strength."

and makes it impossible for any man to chew or smoke. The marvelous part of the remedy is that it is odorless and tasteless. It is taken in milk, water, tea, coffee or food without any bad effects and many women have already cured their husbands and sons of the tobacco habit without the slightest danger of detection. It is easy to quit tobacco and if you will write Rogers Drug and Chemical Co., 2990 Fifth and Race streets, Cincinnati, Ohio, they will send a large trial package free, in a plain, sealed wrapper, and it will prove how easy it is to cure yourself or anyone else of using tobacco in any form.

THE LAST HEARD OF IT.

"My little boy took the croup one night and soon grew so bad you could hear him breathe all over the house," says F. D. Reynolds, Mansfield, O. "We feared he would die, but a few doses of One Minute Cough Cure quickly relieved him and he went to sleep. That's the last we heard of the croup. Now isn't a cough cure like that valuable?" One Minute Cough Cure is absolutely safe and acts immediately. For coughs, colds, croup, grip, bronchitis and all other throat and lung troubles it is a certain cure. Very pleasant to take. The little ones like it. Meyer Bros. & Co.

CLERK'S WISE SUGGESTION.

"I have lately been much troubled with dyspepsia, belching and sour stomach," writes M. S. Mead, leading pharmacist of Attleboro, Mass. "I could eat hardly anything without suffering several hours. My clerk suggested I try Kodol Dyspepsia Cure, which I did, with most happy results. I have had no more trouble and when one can go to eating mince pie, cheese, candy and nuts after such a time, their digestion must be pretty good. I endorse Kodol Dyspepsia Cure heartily." You don't have to diet. Eat all the good food you want but don't overload the stomach. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure digests your food. Meyer Bros. & Co.

WOMANS GENTLE NATURE CALLS FOR GENTLE TREATMENT

Delicately formed and gently reared, women will find, in all the seasons of their lives, as maids or wives or mothers, that the one simple, wholesome remedy which acts gently and pleasantly and naturally, and which may be used with truly beneficial effects, under any conditions, when the system needs a laxative—is—Syrup of Figs. It is well known to be a simple combination of the laxative and carminative principles of plants with pleasant, aromatic liquids, which are agreeable and refreshing to the taste and acceptable to the system when its gentle cleansing is desired.

Many of the ills from which women suffer are of a transient nature and do not come from any organic trouble and it is pleasant to know that they yield so promptly to the beneficial effects of Syrup of Figs, but when anything more than a laxative is needed it is best to consult the family physician and to avoid the old-time cathartics and loudly advertised nostrums of the present day. When one needs only to remove the strain, the torpor, the congestion, or similar ills, which attend upon a constipated condition of the system, use the true and gentle remedy—Syrup of Figs—and enjoy freedom from the depression, the aches and pains, colds and headaches, which are due to inactivity of the bowels.

Only those who buy the genuine Syrup of Figs can hope to get its beneficial effects and as a guarantee of the excellence of the remedy the full name of the company—California Fig Syrup Co.—is printed on the front of every package and without it any preparation offered as Syrup of Figs is fraudulent and should be declined. To those who know the quality of this excellent laxative, the offer of any substitute, when Syrup of Figs is called for, is always resented by a transfer of patronage to some first-class drug establishment, where they do not recommend, nor sell false brands, nor imitation remedies. The genuine article may be bought of all reliable druggists everywhere at 50 cents per bottle.

COULDN'T DO IT.

Milk Diet Failed.

Food that will actually lift one out of a sick bed is worth knowing of. A Chicago lady writes: "I want to tell of a positive cure Grape-Nuts Food has made in a case that was considered almost hopeless.

"I know that you do not look upon Grape-Nuts as a medicine, but inasmuch as the food certainly does build up worn out systems, it seems to me it is closely allied to a tonic. Now about the cure.

"Last spring a dear girl friend fell ill and was taken to one of the hospitals, but weeks before entering the hospital she had been able to take nothing but milk to nourish her, all other foods distressed the stomach so much that she tried to live on the milk alone.

"The doctor in the hospital endeavored to keep her alive with broth and other food, but her stomach refused to retain anything but milk, and very little of that at a time.

"I worked away at the resident physician until he consented to my taking her home to see what the change would do for her. The poor child was so very weak and nervous and so frail that I felt quite dubious about the outcome. Nevertheless, I knew enough about Grape-Nuts Food, which I intended to give her, to feel that it would bring her out. After she had rested a little while I warmed some milk and poured it over a tablespoonful of Grape-Nuts and persuaded her to take it. She did so with fear and trembling, for she did not expect to keep the food down. After giving her the food I started to read her a story, and although it was an interesting one, she fell asleep. When she finally awoke her first words were, 'Did I really keep the Grape-Nuts?'

"She had kept them, but could scarcely believe it. After two or three hours I gave her a little more with the same good result. Gradually and cautiously I increased the amount until after a few days she was able to eat a saucer full with no bad effects.

"She lived on Grape-Nuts entirely and gained strength so rapidly that she soon recovered and now recommends Grape-Nuts to all her friends. She says she would be glad to have anyone who is suffering from stomach trouble write her and she will tell what Grape-Nuts Food has done for her, and how grateful she is to the man who had the forethought to manufacture a food already digested so that weak stomachs can take it. Her name is Lillie M. Gestabt, 4416 Wabash avenue, Chicago.

"A clergyman of our acquaintance eats a dish of Grape-Nuts before preparing his sermon. I asked him once if he got inspiration from the food. He said: 'Not only that, but it seems to clear my mind and make my 'thirdlys' and 'fourthlys' come much more quickly. Just think about one's stomach not having to think about digesting Grape-Nuts at all; they have done the digesting themselves and all we have to do is to tickle the palate by swallowing them.' This same gentleman assured me that he would rather dispense with any article of food on the table than Grape-Nuts.

"We eat the food regularly, with sometimes a little fresh or canned fruit added. We call it our 'tonic.' My husband joins in thanking you heartily for its manufacture." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

Doctors

Consult your doctor. If he says, "Take Ayer's Cherry Pectoral for your cough," then do as he says. If he tells you not to take it, then don't take it. He knows. Leave it with him. We are willing. Physicians have been our friends for 60 years.

"For five years I suffered with bronchitis. A few weeks ago I began to take Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and only two bottles entirely cured me."

SAVED HER CHILD'S LIFE.

"In three weeks our chubby little boy was changed by Pneumonia almost to a skeleton," writes Mrs. W. Watkins, of Pleasant City, O. "A terrible cough set in, that, in spite of a good doctor's treatment for several weeks, grew worse every day. We then used Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, and our darling was soon sound and well. We are sure this grand medicine saved his life." Millions know it's the only sure cure for Coughs, Colds and all Lung Diseases. Dreier & Bro. guarantee satisfaction. 50c, $1.00. Trial bottles free.

John Scheepers, of Hillegom, Holland, is registered at the New Aveline.

Kidney complaint kills more people than any other disease. This is due to the disease being so insidious that it gets a good hold on the system before it is recognized. Foley's Kidney Cure will prevent the development of fatal disease if taken in time. Sold by Dreier & Bro. and Pellens & Polster.

WOMAN'S GENTLE NATURE CALLS FOR GENTLE TREATMENT

Delicately formed and gently reared, women will find, in all the seasons of their lives, as maids or wives or mothers, that the one simple, wholesome remedy which acts gently and pleasantly and naturally, and which may be used with truly beneficial effects, under any conditions, when the system needs a laxative is Syrup of Figs. It is well known to be a simple combination of the laxative and carminative principles of plants with pleasant, aromatic liquids, which are agreeable and refreshing to the taste and acceptable to the system when its gentle cleansing is desired.

Many of the ills from which women suffer are of a transient nature and do not come from any organic trouble and it is pleasant to know that they yield so promptly to the beneficial effects of Syrup of Figs, but when anything more than a laxative is needed it is best to consult the family physician and to avoid the old-time cathartics and loudly advertised nostrums of the present day. When one needs only to remove the strain, the torpor, the congestion, or similar ills, which attend upon a constipated condition of the system, use the true and gentle remedy—Syrup of Figs—and enjoy freedom from the depression, the aches and pains, colds and headaches, which are due to inactivity of the bowels.

Only those who buy the genuine Syrup of Figs can hope to get its beneficial effects and as a guarantee of the excellence of the remedy the full name of the company—California Fig Syrup Co.—is printed on the front of every package and without it any preparation offered as Syrup of Figs is fraudulent and should be declined. To those who know the quality of this excellent laxative, the offer of any substitute, when Syrup of Figs is called for, is always resented by a transfer of patronage to some first-class drug establishment, where they do not recommend, nor sell false brands, nor imitation remedies. The genuine article may be bought of all reliable druggists everywhere at 50 cents per bottle.

COULDN'T DO IT.

Milk Diet Failed.

Food that will actually lift one out of a sick bed is worth knowing of. A Chicago lady writes: "I want to tell of a positive cure Grape-Nuts Food has made in a case that was considered almost hopeless.

"I know that you do not look upon Grape-Nuts as a medicine, but inasmuch as the food certainly does build up worn out systems, it seems to me it is closely allied to a tonic. Now about the cure.

"Last spring a dear girl friend fell ill and was taken to one of the hospitals, but weeks before entering the hospital she had been able to take nothing but milk to nourish her, all other foods distressed the stomach so much that she tried to live on the milk alone.

"The doctor in the hospital endeavored to keep her alive with broth and other food, but her stomach refused to retain anything but milk, and very little of that at a time.

"I worked away at the resident physician until he consented to my taking her home to see what the change would do for her. The poor child was so very weak and nervous and so frail that I felt quite dubious about the outcome. Nevertheless, I knew enough about Grape-Nuts Food, which I intended to give her, to feel that it would bring her out. After she had rested a little while I warmed some milk and poured it over a tablespoonful of Grape-Nuts and persuaded her to take it. She did so with fear and trembling, for she did not expect to keep the food down. After giving her the food I started to read her a story, and although it was an interesting one, she fell asleep. When she finally awoke her first words were, 'Did I really keep the Grape-Nuts?'

"She had kept them, but could scarcely believe it. After two or three hours I gave her a little more with the same good result. Gradually and cautiously I increased the amount until after a few days she was able to eat a saucer full with no bad effects.

"She lived on Grape-Nuts entirely and gained strength so rapidly that she soon recovered and now recommends Grape-Nuts to all her friends. She says she would be glad to have anyone who is suffering from stomach trouble write her and she will tell what Grape-Nuts Food has done for her, and how grateful she is to the man who had the forethought to manufacture a food already digested so that weak stomachs can take it. Her name is Lillie M. Gestabt, 4416 Wabash avenue, Chicago.

"A clergyman of our acquaintance eats a dish of Grape-Nuts before preparing his sermon. I asked him once if he got inspiration from the food. He said: 'Not only that, but it seems to clear my mind and make my 'thirdlys' and 'fourthlys' come much more quickly. Just think about one's stomach not having to think about digesting Grape-Nuts at all; they have done the digesting themselves and all we have to do is to tickle the palate by swallowing them.' This same gentleman assured me that he would rather dispense with any article of food on the table than Grape-Nuts.

"We eat the food regularly, with sometimes a little fresh or canned fruit added. We call it our 'tonic.' My husband joins in thanking you heartily for its manufacture." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

Doctors

Consult your doctor. If he says, "Take Ayer's Cherry Pectoral for your cough," then do as he says. If he tells you not to take it, then don't take it. He knows. Leave it with him. We are willing. Physicians have been our friends for 60 years.

"For five years I suffered with bronchitis. A few weeks ago I began to take Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and only two bottles entirely cured me."

Mrs. J. H. Haskins, of Chicago, Ill., President Chicago Arcade Club, Addresses Comforting Words to Women Regarding Childbirth.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—Mothers need not dread childbearing after they know the value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. While I loved children I dreaded the ordeal, for it left me weak and sick for months after, and at the time I thought death was a welcome relief; but before my last child was born a good neighbor advised Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I used that, together with your Pills and Sanative Wash for four months before the child's birth;—it brought me wonderful relief. I hardly had an ache or pain, and when the child was ten days old I left my bed strong in health. Every spring and fall I now take a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and find it keeps me in continual excellent health."—MRS. J. H. HASKINS, 3248 Indiana Ave., Chicago, Ill. — $5000 forfeit if above testimonial is not genuine.

Care and careful counsel is what the expectant and would-be mother needs, and this counsel she can secure without cost by writing to Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass.

Prince Henry faced a thousand American newspaper men at a banquet with an ease, self-possession and courage that even our own Chauncey Depew could not have surpassed. The prince is doing right well and daily gives new proof that he would make a good American.

Mayor Berghoff now has a clear track and an undisputed right of way. Obstructions have been removed and the fogs of doubt and uncertainty have lifted. All of which is to say he has every opportunity to set about the enforcement of the laws and improvement of the efficiency of his administration.

A man by name of Tillman, lieutenant governor of South Carolina and evidently some relative of the senator of that name from the same state, has written President Roosevelt asking him to withdraw his acceptance of an invitation to present a sword to a deserving volunteer officer who recently distinguished himself. Evidently South Carolina is willing to even up the Tillman slight on easy terms.

THE CHARTER DECISION.

The opinion of Judge Hadley, of the Indiana supreme court, concerning the overthrowing of the Fort Wayne charter amendment relating to the police and fire departments of this city must appeal strongly to the understanding of all intelligent men. Judge Hadley bares the question of all sophistries and makes it clear that if the act giving the governor absolute power over the police and fire departments of this city should stand, such a thing as local self-government in Indiana is a myth. The ruling is strong, clear and indisputable and we believe it will stand as a barrier between partisan legislatures and their unlawful political prey.

It is to be hoped the supreme court's decision makes the end of attempts to install the governor of the state as the chief administrative official in the purely local affairs of this city. It carries a lesson which it is to be hoped the promoters of this sort of partisan legislation will ponder seriously.

But if there is a lesson for the republicans in the decision of the court, there is in the events that led to the court's decision one as serious that invites the attention of the democrats. If the party would henceforth escape these repugnant measures for overthrow of democratic control here, the party must vouchsafe to the people an administration of the laws that will give hungry partisans neither pretext nor excuse for ravishment of home rule. Let the laws be enforced decently, impartially and constantly. Then the democratic party of this city and its representatives in office can point to the honorable and commendatory veritics of the record for approval of administrative acts and confuse and confound for just what they are every partisan assault on the home-rule rights of this city. Otherwise the administrative transgressions of the party here in power will be met by the political transgressions of the party that excites its energies to possess that power.

SPECIAL SERVICES TONIGHT.

For the special evangelistic service at the West Creighton avenue Church of Christ this evening the sermon topic will be "All Sufficiency of the Bible." There will be special music and all are welcome.

SAVED HIM FROM TORTURE.

There is no more agonizing trouble than piles. The constant itching and burning makes life intolerable. No position is comfortable. The torture is unceasing. DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve cures piles at once. For skin diseases, cuts, burns, bruises, all kinds of wounds it is unequalled. J. S. Gerall, St. Paul, Ark., says: "From 1865 I suffered with the protruding, bleeding piles and could find nothing to help me until I used DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. A few boxes completely cured me." A LEGACY OF THE GRIP

Is often a run-down system. Weakness, nervousness, lack of appetite, energy and ambition, with disordered liver and kidneys often follow an attack of this wretched disease. The greatest need then is Electric Bitters, the splendid tonic, blood purifier and regulator of Stomach, Liver and Kidneys. Thousands have proved that they wonderfully strengthen the nerves, build up the system and restore to health and good spirits after an attack of Grip. If suffering, try them. Only 50c. Perfect satisfaction guaranteed by Dreier & Bro.

Lima Times-Democrat: Mrs. Frank Cleveland and son Frank, of Fort Wayne, who have been the guests of Miss Elizabeth Gray, of South Main street, left this morning for Detroit, where they will spend a week with friends.

Miss Myrtle Schick entertained about twenty young people at progressive pedro last evening in honor of Miss Lelia Karn, of Bluffton. Prizes were won by Miss Lillie Engelking and Will Melching. Refreshments were served after the games.

The social tea to have been given at the home of Rev. and Mrs. J. Webster Bailey will be given in Plymouth church parlors tomorrow afternoon, the hostesses for the occasion being Mesdames Jones, Russel, Stopher and Beeber. The change was necessary on account of the illness of Mrs. Bailey.

Shober's First Regiment band will give an entertainment entitled "A Night in Vienna," in Saengerbund hall this evening. There will be a band concert and supper followed by a dance program. The hall has been arranged like a German family cafe and the musical program will consist of German music.

Lame Shoulders

Omega Oil

A person with lame shoulders comes pretty near being helpless. A lameness in the arms or leg or back is just about as bad. Some men have to stop work while suffering in this way, but a woman usually has so much to do around the house that she just has to keep going as best she can. The best remedy for lameness is rest, and a cure is reached quicker when the lame spot is bathed and rubbed freely with Omega Oil. It is an oily liniment of a green color, and is so much better than other liniments, and so different in all ways, that you should never lose time fooling with something else. All good druggists sell Omega Oil, but if you happen to go where it is not on sale, please tell the druggist he ought to get a supply of his wholesaler. If you want any pain or ache to be quickly cured, Omega Oil is the remedy that will do the work. 50c. a bottle. 7th

Mrs. J. H. Haskins, of Chicago, Ill., President Chicago Arcade Club, Addresses Comforting Words to Women Regarding Childbirth.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—Mothers need not dread childbearing after they know the value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. While I loved children I dreaded the ordeal, for it left me weak and sick for months after, and at the time I thought death was a welcome relief; but before my last child was born a good neighbor advised Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I used that, together with your Pills and Sanative Wash for four months before the child's birth;—it brought me wonderful relief. I hardly had an ache or pain, and when the child was ten days old I left my bed strong in health. Every spring and fall I now take a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and find it keeps me in continual excellent health."—MRS. J. H. HASKINS, 3248 Indiana Ave., Chicago, Ill. —$5000 forfeit if above testimonial is not genuine.

Mayor Berghoff now has a clear track and an undisputed right of way. Obstructions have been removed and the fogs of doubt and uncertainty have lifted. All of which is to say he has every opportunity to set about the enforcement of the laws and improvement of the efficiency of his administration.

A man by name of Tillman, lieutenant governor of South Carolina and evidently some relative of the senator of that name from the same state, has written President Roosevelt asking him to withdraw his acceptance of an invitation to present a sword to a deserving volunteer officer who recently distinguished himself. Evidently South Carolina is willing to even up the Tillman slight on easy terms.

THE CHARTER DECISION.

The opinion of Judge Hadley, of the Indiana supreme court, concerning the overthrowing of the Fort Wayne charter amendment relating to the police and fire departments of this city must appeal strongly to the understanding of all intelligent men. Judge Hadley bares the question of all sophistries and makes it clear that if the act giving the governor absolute power over the police and fire departments of this city should stand, such a thing as local self-government in Indiana is a myth. The ruling is strong, clear and indisputable and we believe it will stand as a barrier between partisan legislatures and their unlawful political prey.

It is to be hoped the supreme court's decision makes the end of attempts to install the governor of the state as the chief administrative official in the purely local affairs of this city. It carries a lesson which it is to be hoped the promoters of this sort of partisan legislation will ponder seriously.

But if there is a lesson for the republicans in the decision of the court, there is in the events that led to the court's decision one as serious that invites the attention of the democrats. If the party would henceforth escape these repugnant measures for overthrow of democratic control here, the party must vouchsafe to the people an administration of the laws that will give hungry partisans neither pretext nor excuse for ravishment of home rule. Let the laws be enforced decently, impartially and constantly. Then the democratic party of this city and its representatives in office can point to the honorable and commendatory verities of the record for approval of administrative acts and confuse and confound for just what they are every partisan assault on the home-rule rights of this city. Otherwise the administrative transgressions of the party here in power will be met by the political transgressions of the party that excites its energies to possess that power.

Mother's Friend.

A Promoter of Health.

Mother's Friend puts comfort and ease in a married woman's back and limbs. She applies it externally—no dosing and swallowing of nasty drugs—no internal treatment at all. This liniment strengthens, invigorates, toughens and freshens the muscular tissues, gives them elasticity, makes the tendons supple and stimulates the sinews. It is intended solely for expectant mothers. If applied regularly throughout the whole period of pregnancy, morning sickness is escaped. It is soothing, and quiets the nerves.

Labor is quickly and almost painlessly passed. Bright sweet, healthy babies are born under the conditions wrought by Mother's Friend, and the mother's strength soon rallies. Women who dread the paramount issue are ignorant of the means that art and science do give toward assisting nature, in this event where the mother's life is of equal importance to that of the child who is born.

All reliable druggists have Mother's Friend, and the price is $1 per bottle.

STAND BEHIND IT.

Proprietors of Blood Wine Make A Guarantee.

Local Interest Causes Louis Daudelin Co. to Write to One of Our Citizens.

At the request of the Louis Daudelin Co., of Worcester, Mass., we publish the following correspondence between them and a gentleman of the city whose name is withheld at the suggestion of the Daudelin people. We would recommend our readers giving the matter some consideration, as careful investigation seems to prove that all the claims made are true.

LOUIS DAUDELIN CO.,
Worcester, Mass.

Gentlemen:

I have read very attentively the articles that have appeared here and elsewhere regarding "Blood Wine," and am much interested. I believe if it will do all that is claimed for it that we could use it to advantage here in public institutions. I am given authority to act in this matter, and will ask you to please advise me at your convenience if you stand behind your claims and can make any sort of a guarantee as to its efficacy and your testimonials.

Yours truly,

To this letter the makers of "Blood Wine" replied as follows:

Dear Sir:

We are in receipt of your valued favor and in reply will say that "Blood Wine" is all that we say it is. A scientific compound made under the formula and direction of Mr. Louis Daudelin of Paris, France, and contains no wine or opiates. We also truthfully state that it is without exception the most active blood remedy now to be had. It's effect upon the blood is surprising and through this agency many diseases are cured. Catarrh, Pulmonary Diseases, Rheumatism, Kidney Troubles, Indigestion and derangements of the stomach and bowels will invariably succumb to "Blood Wine." "Blood Wine" seemed to do away with fatigue, sleeplessness, failing appetites and the many little ills in the lives of nearly every one. Persons should not buy "Blood Wine" expecting to be cured when they are on the brink of the grave, for nothing was ever made to perform such wonders. Now we will add that we guarantee "Blood Wine" to do all we claim for it, and refer any one to our literature for a complete explanation of what it will do. We will gladly present some charitable institution with $500.00—upon proof that we use any other than thoroughly genuine and authorized testimonials. Awaiting your further favors, we are, Yours very truly,

LOUIS DAUDELIN CO.

Worcester, Mass.

P.S. We send a copy of this letter to the druggists representing us in your city, and hope same is agreeable to you.

Unlike everything else in the line of proprietary articles, this medicine is on sale at all druggists, and they are authorized to give a free sample to any one.

"Blood Wine" costs fifty cents a bottle, but you can sample it free of charge at Pellens & Polster's drug store.

WERE WED FIFTY YEARS AGO

TWO PERRY TOWNSHIP COUPLES WILL CELEBRATE.

Golden Anniversaries of Mr. and Mrs. Sol Simons and Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Cone Next Week.

Two aged and estimable couples in Perry township, this county, will celebrate their golden wedding anniversaries early in the coming week.

On Monday, March 3, Mr. and Mrs. Solomon Simons will complete their fiftieth year of wedded life, and on the day following Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Cone, who were united in marriage but one day later than Mr. and Mrs. Simons, reach the fiftieth milestone of their life together.

In both families the golden wedding anniversaries will be suitably celebrated and many guests have been invited to participate in the happy events. It is rare, indeed, that two couples married in the same township but a day apart should reside there through fifty years of wedded life within a few miles of each other, and both be permitted to celebrate golden weddings under such happy circumstances as are foreshadowed in the anniversaries of these estimable pioneer citizens. Hundreds of friends of both Mr. and Mrs. Simons and Mr. and Mrs. Cone will add their heartiest congratulations to those of their immediate families and the double event promises to be most memorable.

GAME IS POSTPONED.

The polo game between the Fort Waynes and Muncie Royals, to have been played Friday evening at Princess rink, has been postponed one week. Manager Eckart received word last evening that the team would be unable to come tomorrow and naming the following Friday night as an open date, which was accepted. The Racine team will play here in a few weeks.

COMMERCIAL CLUB TONIGHT.

The regular meeting of the Commercial club will be held this evening and a full attendance of members is requested as business of importance will be up for consideration. Two factory propositions will be considered, one of them having been received yesterday from a concern in a neighboring city which was recently burned out, and is desirous of changing its location.

WOULD NOT BAR AMERICANS.

Madrid, Feb. 27.—The foreign minister, the Duke of Almodovar, at the conference with the senators, yesterday, announced that the government was opposed to the insertion of a clause in the Spanish-American treaty prohibiting Americans from acquiring land in Spain, as Spaniards acquired property and stocks in the United States. The minister declined to promise to submit a draft of the treaty to parliament before it was signed.

CANCER OF THE TONGUE.

J. P. Hineline, 1103 Adams street, Toledo, O., could push a pencil through the hole cancer had eaten in his tongue. Leroux's Blood Remedy cured him. Ask your druggist.

HOME FROM MANILA.

The transport Rosecrans arrived yesterday at San Francisco from Manila with 591 soldiers, including the third battalion of the Twenty-second infantry, of which Lieut. Ivers Leonard, of this city, is a member. The regiment will be stationed in the department of the Missouri, with Omaha, Neb., as headquarters. Lieut. A THOUSAND DOLLARS THROWN AWAY.

Mr. W. W. Baker, of Plainview, Neb., writes: "My wife had lung trouble for over fifteen years. We tried a number of doctors and spent over a thousand dollars without any relief. She was very low and I lost all hope, when a friend suggested trying Foley's Honey and Tar, which I did, and thanks be to this great remedy, it saved her life. She is stronger and enjoys better health than she has ever known in ten years. We shall never be without Foley's Honey and Tar and would ask those afflicted to try it." Mother's Friend.

A Promoter of Health.

Mother's Friend puts comfort and ease in a married woman's back and limbs. She applies it externally—no dosing and swallowing of nasty drugs—no internal treatment at all. This liniment strengthens, invigorates, toughens and freshens the muscular tissues, gives them elasticity, makes the tendons supple and stimulates the sinews. It is intended solely for expectant mothers. If applied regularly throughout the whole period of pregnancy, morning sickness is escaped. It is soothing, and quiets the nerves.

Labor is quickly and almost painlessly passed. Bright, sweet, healthy babies are born under the conditions wrought by Mother's Friend, and the mother's strength soon rallies. Women who dread the parturitional issue are ignorant of the means that art and science do give toward assisting nature, in this event where the mother's life is of equal importance to that of the child which is born.

All reliable druggists have Mother's Friend, and the price is $1 per bottle.

STAND BEHIND IT.

Proprietors of Blood Wine Make A Guarantee.

Local Interest Causes Louis Daudelin Co. to Write to One of Our Citizens.

At the request of the Louis Daudelin Co., of Worcester, Mass., we publish the following correspondence between them and a gentleman of the city whose name is withheld at the suggestion of the Daudelin people. We would recommend our readers giving the matter some consideration, as careful investigation seems to prove that all the claims made are true.

LOUIS DAUDELIN CO.,
Worcester, Mass.

Gentlemen:

I have read very attentively the articles that have appeared here and elsewhere regarding "Blood Wine," and am much interested. I believe if it will do all that is claimed for it that we could use it to advantage here in public institutions. I am given authority to act in this matter, and will ask you to please advise me at your convenience if you stand behind your claims and can make any sort of a guarantee as to its efficacy and your testimonials.

Yours truly,

To this letter the makers of "Blood Wine" replied as follows:

Dear Sir:

We are in receipt of your valued favor and in reply will say that "Blood Wine" is all that we say it is. A scientific compound made under the formula and direction of Mr. Louis Daudelin of Paris, France, and contains no wine or opiates. We also truthfully state that it is without exception the most active blood remedy now to be had. Its effect upon the blood is surprising and through this agency many diseases are cured. Catarrh, Pulmonary Diseases, Rheumatism, Kidney Troubles, Indigestion and derangements of the stomach and bowels will invariably succumb to "Blood Wine." "Blood Wine" seemed to do away with fatigue, sleeplessness, failing appetites and the many little ills in the lives of nearly every one. Persons should not buy "Blood Wine" expecting to be cured when they are on the brink of the grave, for nothing was ever made to perform such wonders. Now we will add that we guarantee "Blood Wine" to do all we claim for it, and refer any one to our literature for a complete explanation of what it will do. We will gladly present some charitable institution with $500.00—upon proof that we use any other than thoroughly genuine and authorized testimonials. Awaiting your further favors, we are, Yours very truly,

LOUIS DAUDELIN CO.

Worcester, Mass.

P.S. We send a copy of this letter to the druggists representing us in your city, and hope same is agreeable to you.

Unlike everything else in the line of proprietary articles, this medicine is on sale at all druggists, and they are authorized to give a free sample to any one.

"Blood Wine" costs fifty cents a bottle, but you can sample it free of charge at Pellens & Polster's drug store.

WERE WED FIFTY YEARS AGO

TWO PERRY TOWNSHIP COUPLES WILL CELEBRATE.

Golden Anniversaries of Mr. and Mrs. Sol Simons and Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Cone Next Week.

Two aged and estimable couples in Perry township, this county, will celebrate their golden wedding anniversaries early in the coming week.

On Monday, March 3, Mr. and Mrs. Solomon Simons will complete their fiftieth year of wedded life, and on the day following Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Cone, who were united in marriage but one day later than Mr. and Mrs. Simons, reach the fiftieth milestone of their life together.

In both families the golden wedding anniversaries will be suitably celebrated and many guests have been invited to participate in the happy events. It is rare, indeed, that two couples married in the same township but a day apart should reside there through fifty years of wedded life within a few miles of each other, and both be permitted to celebrate golden weddings under such happy circumstances as are foreshadowed in the anniversaries of these estimable pioneer citizens. Hundreds of friends of both Mr. and Mrs. Simons and Mr. and Mrs. Cone will add their heartiest congratulations to those of their immediate families and the double event promises to be most memorable.

GAME IS POSTPONED.

The polo game between the Fort Waynes and Muncie Royals, to have been played Friday evening at Princess rink, has been postponed one week. Manager Eckart received word last evening that the team would be unable to come tomorrow and naming the following Friday night as an open date, which was accepted. The Racine team will play here in a few weeks.

COMMERCIAL CLUB TONIGHT.

The regular meeting of the Commercial club will be held this evening and a full attendance of members is requested as business of importance will be up for consideration. Two factory propositions will be considered, one of them having been received yesterday from a concern in a neighboring city which was recently burned out, and is desirous of changing its location.

WOULD NOT BAR AMERICANS.

Madrid, Feb. 27.—The foreign minister, the Duke of Almodovar, at the conference with the senators, yesterday, announced that the government was opposed to the insertion of a clause in the Spanish-American treaty prohibiting Americans from acquiring land in Spain, as Spaniards acquired property and stocks in the United States. The minister declined to promise to submit a draft of the treaty to parliament before it was signed.

CANCER OF THE TONGUE.

J. P. Hineline, 1103 Adams street, Toledo, O., could push a pencil through the hole cancer had eaten in his tongue. Leroux's Blood Remedy cured him. Ask your druggist.

HOME FROM MANILA.

The transport Roserans arrived yesterday at San Francisco from Manila with 501 soldiers, including the third battalion of the Twenty-second infantry, of which Lieut. Ivers Leonard, of this city, is a member. The regiment will be stationed in the department of the Missouri, with Omaha, Neb., as headquarters. Lieut. Leonard experts to spend a few weeks in Fort Wayne.

A THOUSAND DOLLARS THROWN AWAY.

Mr. W. W. Baker, of Plainview, Neb., writes: "My wife had lung trouble for over fifteen years. We tried a number of doctors and spent over a thousand dollars without any relief. She was very low and I lost all hope, when a friend suggested trying Foley's Honey and Tar, which I did, and thanks be to this great remedy, it saved her life. She is stronger and enjoys better health than she has ever known in ten years. We shall never be without Foley's Honey and Tar and would ask those afflicted to try it." Sold by Dreier & Bro. and Pellens & Polster.

C. S. Knight, of this city, has just completed an electric light plant for the city of Tipton.

Foley's Honey and Tar cures the cough caused by attack of la grippe. It heals the lungs. Sold by Dreier & Bro. and Pellens & Polster.

WEDDED LAST EVENING.

Earl A. Bryan and Miss Jennie Hughes, of this city, were united in marriage Wednesday evening, the ceremony being performed at 7:30 o'clock at the residence of and by Rev. J. W. Lake, of Calvary U. B. church. There were no attendants. Mr. Bryan is a young farmer near Churubusco, and his bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Hughes, of 56 Wells street. They will reside near Churubusco.

REUBEN S. PATTERSON.

TWIN TROUBLES

THEY ARE OFTEN TOGETHER THESE DAYS—THEY WORK HAVOC ALL OVER THE COUNTRY AND IN FORT WAYNE.

Weak, nervous, the digestion out of order—that is what ails a host of people. It comes about in this way—First from overwork or other causes, the nerves are burdened beyond endurance, nerve waste is not replaced, nerve force is weakened, then the stomach loses its nerve controling power and indigestion follows with falling strength. When first Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills came to Fort Wayne people could hardly be convinced that this great medicine would remove these troubles—Now it is an accepted fact because of their cure of very stubborn cases no other medicines would influence.

Mrs. J. Lasmmle, of No. 52 Barr St., Fort Wayne, Ind., says: "From a faithful use of Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills in my house with a relative whose stomach was very weak and would hardly retain food when eaten, though hungry all the time, and the results obtained in the making strong of the stomach and indigestion again with an ability to retain food eaten, I can recommend the medicine to others affected in a like manner as reliable, safe, certain and easy of action. Meyer Bros. & Co.'s, of No. 14 Calhoun St., are to be commended for introducing them."

Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills are sold at 50c a box at dealers or Dr. A. W. Chase Medicine Co., Buffalo, N. Y. See that portrait and signature of A. W. Chase, M. D., are on every package.

GOOD CLOTHES ARE SOMETHING; GOOD looks are everything. The face, the mirror of the soul, should be helped if nature has slighted it. A refined powder, like Satin-Skin, adhesive, invisible, harmless; a beautifier like Satin-Skin Cream, are aids to attractiveness whose merits a trial promptly proves. Skin irritations, tan, blotches, windburn, early wrinkles yield a fresh, fair face under the magical influence of Satin-Skin Cream and Satin-Skin Powder. Mrs. D. T. Coates, Waukesha, Wis., writes: "I have recommended Satin-Skin Cream to a great many people, as it is the best Cream I know of, and has a lasting effect upon the skin." Give it a trial. Only 25c. Free sample from Albert F. Wood, Mfr., Detroit, Mich. Sold at Rurode Dry Goods Co.

THE LIVER.

Continually Changing Its Position in Its Auxiliary Formation of the Blood.

Every drop of blood that flows through our veins passes through the liver in its formation. Any habit or work that tends to check the circulation of the blood in its passage through the liver materially effects the health. Sewing, leaning forward at the desk, tight lacing and all sedentary habits retard the circulation of the blood through the liver. The first symptoms of a disordered liver are flushed cheeks, the complexion becomes dark, showing a congested condition of the circulation. The pressure on the nerves is increased, the great nerve center, the brain responds with violent headache. Other symptoms are dizziness, bad breath, coated tongue, pain above the eyes and in the rear and lower part of the head and neck, dull and tired feelings. The complexion gradually becomes swarthy and yellow, and oftimes covered with blotches, which are typical evidences of torpid liver and sluggish bowels.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin and Herb Laxative Compound acts gently on the liver, increases its activity in its formation of the blood, giving a bright, clear complexion, dispelling colds, headaches and fevers and all ills caused from a torpid liver and sluggish bowels. Pleasant to the taste, mild in its action and soothing in its effects. 50c and $1 bottles. Your druggist sells it. Sample bottle and book free. Pepsin Syrup Company, Monticello, Ill.

NO NEW CASES TODAY.

There were no new cases of smallpox at the state school for feebleminded today, and Dr. Carl Proegler, the county health officer, who visited the institution this morning, says the outlook is very encouraging for the suppression of further cases of the disease. For at least a week, however, Dr. Proegler will make daily inspection of the institution. The three cases are of a mild type, and all are progressing favorably. Everybody at the institution is in good spirits, and but for the inconvenience of the quarantine regulations established, everything is moving along in its usual way. Employes of the institution who have been in the habit of going to their homes at night are now provided with sleeping accomodations at the school, and Superintendent Johnson says none of the attaches of the school are permitted to ride in the street cars, so that the general public need have no fear of contagion from that source.

THE MARKETS.

Chicago, Feb. 27.—May wheat opened ⅛@¼c to ¼@⅜c lower at 76⅝c to 76¼c on steady cables, heavy northwestern receipts and rather bearish reports of crop conditions. Trade was quiet and the market eased somewhat on generally favorable weather. May sold down 76⅛c after having touched 76½c. Predictions were for a heavy storm in the west and southwest which, however, had little effect in wheat. Later May steadied around 76¼@76⅜c. Local receipts were 37 cars, 2 of contract grade. Minneapolis and Duluth reported 533 cars, making a total for the three points of 570 against only 292 last week and 342 a year ago.

The feeling in corn early was rather firm. May opened unchanged to ⅛c higher at 60⅝c to 61c on firm cables and reports that there was an improved demand late yesterday in the west from feeders and also from the southwest. Receipts were less than estimated and the prospects of a storm west had a slightly bullish effect. May eased at one time to 60⅜c, but later sold at 60½c. Receipts were 115 cars.

Oats were quiet and slightly easier early. Country offerings were light, but the provision crowd had May for sale and that option opening a shade higher at 43⅛c sold to 43⅜c and then declined to 43¼c. Receipts were 80 cars.

Receipts were again liberal in the hog market and prices at the yards were lower. This prompted selling in pork again and brought a lower opening all around in provisions. Later, however, the market was dull and prices reacted slightly and steadied. May pork opened 7½c lower at $15.10 and sold up to $15.22½; May lard 2½c lower to unchanged at $9.17½ to $9.20, and May ribs 2½c down at $8.27½ and sold to $8.30.

THE CLOSE.

Prices at the close were as follows:

Wheat—Feb., 74c; May, 76¾c; July, 76⅝@76½c; Sept., 76½c.

Corn—Feb., 59⅝c; May, 61⅝c; July, 61⅛c; Sept., 59⅝c; Dec., 48⅛c; year, 48½c.

tiny. Whether the question comes, as in Egypt, from a sphinx, symbol of the hostile forces of omnipotent nature, who punishes with instant death our failure to understand her meaning; or whether it comes, as in Jerusalem, from the Lord of Hosts, who commands the building of His temple, it comes always with the warning that the past is past, and experience vain. "Your fathers, where are they? and the prophets, do they live forever?" The fathers are dead; the prophets are silent; the questions are new, and have no answer but in time.

When the horny outside case which protects the infancy of a chrysalis nation suddenly bursts, and, in a single abrupt shock, it finds itself floating on wings which had not existed before, whose strength it has never tested, among dangers it can not foresee and is without experience to measure, every motion is a problem, and every hesitation may be an error. The past gives no clue to the future. The fathers, where are they? and the prophets, do they live forever? We are ourselves the fathers. We are ourselves the prophets! The questions that are put to us we must answer without delay, without help—for the sphinx allows no one to pass.

At such moments, which have already occurred at least twice in the brief history of our own lives, we may be humbly grateful to have had leaders simple in mind, clear in vision—as far as human vision can safely extend—penetrating in knowledge of men, supple and flexible under the strains and pressures of society, instinct with the energy of new life and untried strength, cautious, calm and, above all, gifted in a supreme degree with the most surely victorious of all political virtues—the genius of infinite patience.

The obvious elements which enter into the fame of a public man are few and by no means recondite. The man who fills a great station in a period of change, who leads his country successfully through a time of crisis; who, by his power of persuading and controlling others, has been able to command the best thought of his age, so as to leave his country in a moral or material condition in advance of where he found it—such a man's position in history is secure. If, in addition to this, his written or spoken words possess the subtle quality which carry them far and lodge them in men's hearts; and, more than all, if his utterances and actions, while informed with a lofty morality, are yet tinged with the glow of human sympathy, the fame of such a man will shine like a beacon through the mists of ages—an object of reverence, of imitation, and of love.

OCCASION OF SOLEMN PRIDE.

It should be to us an occasion of solemn pride that in the three great crises of our history such a man was not denied us. The moral value to a nation of a renown such as Washington's and Lincoln's and McKinley's is beyond all computation. No loftier ideal can be held up to the emulation of ingenuous youth. With such examples we can not be wholly ignoble. Grateful as we may be for what they did, let us be still more grateful for what they were. While our daily being, our public policies, still feel the influence of their work, let us pray that in our spirits their lives may be voluble, calling us upward and onward.

There is not one of us but feels prouder of his native land because the august figure of Washington presided over its beginnings; no one but vows it a tenderer love because Lincoln poured out his blood for it; no one but must feel his devotion for his country renewed and kindled when he remembers how McKinley loved, revered, and served it, showed in his life how a citizen should live, and in his last hour taught us how a gentleman could die.

WILL IGNORE LETTER.

Washington, Feb. 27.—Although the white house officials are non-committal on the subject, there is reason to believe that no response whatever is likely to be made to the letter of Lieutenant Governor Tillman, of South Carolina, to the president requesting him to withdraw his acceptance of the invitation to present a sword to Major Micah Jenkins, at Charleston. It is believed that this incident will result in President Roosevelt's not attending the Charleston exposition.

MAYOR BERGHOFF TALKS OF CHARTER RULING.

Will Inquire Into Conditions and a Program May be Adopted —What He Says.

The supposed future policy of Mayor Berghoff, since the charter amendment question has finally been disposed of, has been a matter of much and frequently wild conjecture during the last twenty-four hours. In a brief interview published in The Sentinel last evening and in a more extended one published in the Journal-Gazette this morning, the mayor gave a pretty free expression and a wide range of opinion which has been construed and misconstrued. Speaking definitely to some questions in point, the mayor today said to The Sentinel: "Just exactly what course I will pursue I have decided for myself, but before executing my policy I want a consultation with the heads of departments, especially those directly affected by the supreme court decision yesterday. It is not my intention to disturb the forces now operating under the direction of the board of public safety and there is no occasion for anxiety on that score; the fire department is efficient in every way and the police department is satisfactory and is working out its own salvation, which it will have to continue to do. I have no hesitancy in saying for publication that there is room for improvement all around, but I think the improvement will come naturally with the course of events. I have had many anonymous complaints from all kinds of sources and relating to all kinds of troubles which I have ignored as repeatedly as I received them and will continue to ignore them. I will conscientiously take up any matter that is presented to me in a regular way, but I desire it distinctly understood that I can distinguish a great difference between statements and facts and between facts and proof. I have been frequently informed—anonymously—that there is public gambling in Fort Wayne, but no one has ever taken the matter up with me and offered to furnish the proof; all my information has come under cover. Now if anyone is sufficiently aggrieved to take the pains to write to me about it, why can he not come to me directly and show me some facts and the proofs to sustain them? I will say, however, that I will meet with the board of safety at the next regular meeting next Tuesday night and will ask for some close statistical information. There are some public evils, such as prostitution, which can not properly be discussed; there are evils like diseases, such as leprosy, smallpox, which can not be obliterated, but can be restricted and regulated. I promised that wine rooms and dives and saloons with women in them should go and I have kept my promise and propose to make more drastic reforms in that direction if I can. The general policy which I adopted when I first took the mayor's chair I shall continue. I will endeavor to respect the rights of all and do that which my conscience tells me is for the best interests of the greater number of people. I want to say frankly that if the people of Fort Wayne expect me to make this town a regular heaven they will be disappointed—I can't do it and I am not even going to try. My sole aim is to give the people of Fort Wayne a straightforward business administration and on the question of the strict enforcement of the strict letter of the law you can state for me that I will respect any complaint that is made to me in a regular way, but once more want to assert that I will not respect annoymous communications in any form."

WILL BE A BUSY SESSION.

The directors of the Commercial club will hold their regular monthly meeting this evening, and the indications are that the session will be a very busy one. Chairman Graeter, of the manufacturers committee, will present several propositions looking toward the location of new factories in Fort Wayne, and it is believed preliminary steps will be taken to organize a land company to provide manufacturing sites to enterprises which desire to locate in this city. The special committee on dedication of the court house will present a suggested outline for a program, and advice, suggestion and criticism will be invited. The meeting is open to the public.

TRACY—PETTIBONE.

An Honest Doctor
AND
Eminent Specialist.

D. W. Tucker, A. M. M. D.

INDIANA MEDICAL AND SURGICAL INSTITUTE.

The Oldest, the Largest, and the Best —Thirty Years' Experience.

Many Imitators, But no Equal.

Permit us to call the attention of our readers to the important fact that there are three essential steps in the successful treatment of disease. First, a correct diagnosis; second, the selection of the proper remedies in their best possible form, and third, a thorough knowledge of knowing how to prepare these remedies and their physiological effects upon the human body, in order to effect a cure. In the three above named facts Dr. D. W. Tucker has no equal in the state of Indiana. He has treated many thousands of cases within the last Thirty Years.

If one fourth of the people that are now in the cemetery had consulted and been treated by some good Specialist in place of their family doctor, they would have lived twenty years longer. Only a Specialist, who thoroughly understands Chronic Diseases, can treat them successfully. Dr. Tucker is without doubt the ablest specialist in this state and has treated and cured more cases of Chronic and Private Diseases than all the other Specialists in this state combined.

A doctor that has restored thousands to health, and can produce undeniable proof of the fact, must be regarded with respect. This is the record of Dr. Tucker, which cannot be equaled by any other specialist in the United States. His success is the result of THIRTY YEARS of careful study, extensive research, observation and remarkable experience in the treatment and cure of thousands of chronic and private diseases of the Brain, Heart, Lungs, Liver, Kidneys, Bladder, Rectum, Gleet, Impotency, Nervous Diseases, Catarrh, Piles, Varicocele, Strictures, and all private diseases of both sexes. If Dr. Tucker cannot cure you no other specialist in the United States can. He has deposited in bank ONE THOUSAND DOLLARS that he has treated more cases of chronic diseases and performed more remarkable cures than any THREE SPECIALISTS in the State of Indiana. He will not deceive you, and guarantees to cure every case he takes for treatment. He is vouched for by the best banks and citizens of the state.

The only Master Specialist in the State of Indiana can be found only at the Indiana Medical and Surgical Institute, at No. 10 West Wayne street. Call or address,

TWIN TROUBLES

THEY ARE OFTEN TOGETHER THESE DAYS—THEY WORK HAVOC ALL OVER THE COUNTRY AND IN FORT WAYNE.

Weak, nervous, the digestion out of order—that is what ails a host of people. It comes about in this way—First from overwork or other causes, the nerves are burdened beyond endurance, nerve waste is not replaced, nerve force is weakened, then the stomach loses its nerve controling power and indigestion follows with falling strength. When first Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills came to Fort Wayne people could hardly be convinced that this great medicine would remove these troubles—Now it is an accepted fact because of their cure of very stubborn cases no other medicines would influence.

Mrs. J. Laemmle, of No. 52 Barr St., Fort Wayne, Ind., says: "From a faithful use of Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills in my house with a relative whose stomach was very weak and would hardly retain food when eaten, though hungry all the time, and the results obtained in the making strong of the stomach and indigestion again with an ability to retain food eaten, I can recommend the medicine to others affected in a like manner as reliable, safe, certain and easy of action. Meyer Bros. & Co.'s, of No. 14 Calhoun St., are to be commended for introducing them."

Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills are sold at 50c a box at dealers or Dr. A. W. Chase Medicine Co., Buffalo, N. Y. See that portrait and signature of A. W. Chase, M. D., are on every package.

GOOD CLOTHES ARE SOMETHING; GOOD looks are everything. The face, the mirror of the soul, should be helped if nature has slighted it. A refined powder, like Satin-Skin, adhesive, invisible, harmless; a beautifier like Satin-Skin Cream, are aids to attractiveness whose merits a trial promptly proves. Skin irritations, tan, blotches, windburn, early wrinkles yield a fresh, fair face under the magical influence of Satin-Skin Cream and Satin-Skin Powder. Mrs. D. T. Coates, Waukesha, Wis., writes: "I have recommended Satin-Skin Cream to a great many people, as it is the best Cream I know of, and has a lasting effect upon the skin." Give it a trial. Only 25c. Free sample from Albert F. Wood, Mfr., Detroit, Mich. Sold at Hurons Dry Goods Co.

THE LIVER.

Continually Changing Its Position in Its Auxiliary Formation of the Blood.

Every drop of blood that flows through our veins passes through the liver in its formation. Any habit or work that tends to check the circulation of the blood in its passage through the liver materially effects the health. Sewing, leaning forward at the desk, tight lacing and all sedentary habits retard the circulation of the blood through the liver. The first symptoms of a disordered liver are flushed cheeks, the complexion becomes dark, showing a congested condition of the circulation. The pressure on the nerves is increased, the great nerve center, the brain responds with violent headache. Other symptoms are dizziness, bad breath, coated tongue, pain above the eyes and in the rear and lower part of the head and neck, dull and tired feelings. The complexion gradually becomes swarthy and yellow, and oftimes covered with blotches, which are typical evidences of torpid liver and sluggish bowels.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin and Herb Laxative Compound acts gently on the liver, increases its activity in its formation of the blood, giving a bright, clear complexion, dispelling colds, headaches and fevers and all ills caused from a torpid liver and sluggish bowels. Pleasant to the taste, mild in its action and soothing in its effects. 50c and $1 bottles. Your druggist sells it. Sample bottle and book free. Pepsin Syrup Company, Monticello, Ill.

IN NORTHERN INDIANA

J. Oscar Flood, a druggist at Laporte, has been declared insane.

Orland Chafee, a pioneer resident of DeKalb county, is dead at his home in Corunna.

Mrs. Louis Smith, of Liberty Mills, died a few days ago at the age of nearly ninety-four years.

Oliver Sheadle, of Thornecreek township, Whitley county, died Wednesday from cancer at the age of fifty-eight years.

Recent deaths at Goshen are: Jacob Shuman, aged seventy-seven, and Mrs. Margaret Elizabeth Beaver, aged sixty-one.

Mrs. Abe Woods, who was born near the town of Lagro in 1824, has just died at that place. She was one of the first white children born in that vicinity.

The Wabash River Traction company, operating an interurban line between Wabash and Peru, has just disposed of $300,000 worth of bonds to be used in making extensions to the system. It will probably go to Logansport.

A dog at Portland has caused a $5,000 lawsuit. Isaac W. Armentrout wants that amount of damages from William S. Manor, a wealthy farmer, whose dog attacked Armentrout as he was riding past the Manor farm on a bicycle.

The Sprunger families at Berne will celebrate on April 28 the fiftieth anniversary of their settlement at Berne, when the country was yet an immense forest. They came from Berne, Switzerland, and thirty-six survivors of the original settlers are still living.

NO NEW CASES TODAY.

There were no new cases of smallpox at the state school for feebleminded today, and Dr. Carl Proegler, the county health officer, who visited the institution this morning, says the outlook is very encouraging for the suppression of further cases of the disease. For at least a week, however, Dr. Proegler will make daily inspection of the institution. The three cases are of a mild type, and all are progressing favorably. Everybody at the institution is in good spirits, and but for the inconvenience of the quarantine regulations established, everything is moving along in its usual way. Employes of the institution who have been in the habit of going to their homes at night are now provided with sleeping accomodations at the school, and Superintendent Johnson says none of the attaches of the school are permitted to ride in the street cars, so that the general public need have no fear of contagion from that source.

THE MARKETS.

Chicago, Feb. 27.—May wheat opened ½@¾c to ¼@⅝c lower at 75¾c to 76⅛c on steady cables, heavy northwestern receipts and rather bearish reports of crop conditions. Trade was quiet and the market eased somewhat on generally favorable weather. May sold down 76⅝c after having touched 76¾c. Predictions were for a heavy storm in the west and southwest which, however, had little effect in wheat. Later May steadied around 76⅛@76⅜c. Local receipts were 37 cars, 2 of contract grade. Minneapolis and Duluth reported 533 cars, making a total for the three points of 570 against only 292 last week and 342 a year ago.

The feeling in corn early was rather firm. May opened unchanged to ⅛c higher at 60⅜c to 60¾c on firm cables and reports that there was an improved demand late yesterday in the west from feeders and also from the southwest. Receipts were less than estimated and the prospects of a storm west had a slightly bullish effect. May raised at one time to 60⅝c, but later sold at 60⅜c. Receipts were 115 cars.

Oats were quiet and slightly easier early. Country offerings were light, but the provision crowd had May for sale and that option opening a shade higher at 43⅛c sold to 43¼c and then declined to 43⅛c. Receipts were 80 cars.

Receipts were again liberal in the hog market and prices at the yards were lower. This prompted selling in pork again and brought a lower opening all around in provisions. Later, however, the market was dull and prices reacted slightly and steadied. May pork opened 7½c lower at $15.10 and sold up to $15.22½; May lard 2½c lower to unchanged at $9.17½ to $9.20, and May ribs 2½c down at $8.27½ and sold to $8.30.

THE CLOSE.

Prices at the close were as follows:

tiny. Whether the question comes, as in Egypt, from a sphinx, symbol of the hostile forces of omnipotent nature, who punishes with instant death our failure to understand her meaning; or whether it comes, as in Jerusalem, from the Lord of Hosts, who commands the building at His temple, it comes always with the warning that the past is past, and experience vain. "Your fathers, where are they? and the prophets, do they live forever?" The fathers are dead; the prophets are silent; the questions are new, and have no answer but in time.

When the horny outside case which protects the infancy of a chrysalis nation suddenly bursts, and, in a single abrupt shock, it finds itself floating on wings which had not existed before, whose strength it has never tested, among dangers it can not foresee and is without experience to measure, every motion is a problem, and every hesitation may be an error. The past gives no clue to the future. The fathers, where are they? and the prophets, do they live forever? We are ourselves the fathers! We are ourselves the prophets! The questions that are put to us we must answer without delay, without help—for the sphinx allows no one to pass.

At such moments, which have already occurred at least twice in the brief history of our own lives, we may be humbly grateful to have had leaders simple in mind, clear in vision—as far as human vision can safely extend—penetrating in knowledge of men, supple and flexible under the strain, and possessors of society, instinct with the energy of new life and untried strength, cautious, calm and, above all, gifted in a supreme degree with the most surely victorious of all political virtues—the genius of infinite patience.

The obvious elements which enter into the fame of a public man are few and by no means recondite. The man who fills a great station in a period of change, who leads his country successfully through a time of crisis; who, by his power of persuading and controlling others, has been able to command the best thought of his age so as to leave his country in a moral or material condition in advance of where he found it—such a man's position in history is secure. If, in addition to this, his written or spoken words possess the subtle quality which carry them far and lodge them in men's hearts; and, more than all, if his utterances and actions, while informed with a lofty morality, are yet tinged with the glow of human sympathy, the fame of such a man will shine like a beacon through the mists of ages—an object of reverence, of imitation, and of love.

OCCASION OF SOLEMN PRIDE.

It should be to us an occasion of solemn pride that in the three great crises of our history such a man was not denied us. The moral value to a nation of a renown such as Washington's and Lincoln's and McKinley's is beyond all computation. No loftier ideal can be held up to the emulation of ingenuous youth. With such examples we can not be wholly ignoble. Grateful as we may be for what they did, let us be still more grateful for what they were. While our daily being, our public policies, still feel the influence of their work, let us pray that in our spirits their lives may be valuable, calling us upward and onward.

There is not one of us but feels prouder of his native land because the august figure of Washington presided over its beginnings; no one but vows it a tenderer love because Lincoln poured out his blood for it; no one but must feel his devotion for his country renewed and kindled when he remembers how McKinley loved, revered, and served it, showed in his life how a citizen should live, and in his last hour taught us how a gentleman could die.

WILL IGNORE LETTER.

Washington, Feb. 27.—Although the white house officials are non-committal on the subject, there is reason to believe that no response whatever is likely to be made to the letter of Lieutenant Governor Tillman, of South Carolina, to the president requesting him to withdraw his acceptance of the invitation to present a sword to Major Micah Jenkins, at Charleston. It is believed that this incident will result in President Roosevelt's not attending the Charleston exposition.

NOTHING RADICAL LIKELY

MAYOR BERGHOFF TALKS OF CHARTER RULING.

Will Inquire Into Conditions and a Program May be Adopted —What He Says.

The supposed future policy of Mayor Berghoff, since the charter amendment question has finally been disposed of, has been a matter of much and frequently wild conjecture during the last twenty-four hours. In a brief interview published in The Sentinel last evening and in a more extended one published in the Journal-Gazette this morning, the mayor gave a pretty free expression and a wide range of opinion which has been construed and misconstrued. Speaking definitely to some questions in point, the mayor today said to The Sentinel: "Just exactly what course I will pursue I have decided for myself, but before executing my policy I want a consultation with the heads of departments, especially those directly affected by the supreme court decision yesterday. It is not my intention to disturb the forces now operating under the direction of the board of public safety and there is no occasion for anxiety on that score; the fire department is efficient in every way and the police department is satisfactory and is working out its own salvation, which it will have to continue to do. I have no hesitancy in saying for publication that there is room for improvement all around, but I think the improvement will come naturally with the course of events. I have had many anonymous complaints from all kinds of sources, and relating to all kinds of troubles which I have ignored as repeatedly as I received them and will continue to ignore them. I will conscientiously take up any matter that is presented to me in a regular way, but I desire it distinctly understood that I can distinguish a great difference between statements and facts and between facts and proof. I have been frequently informed—anonymously—that there is public gambling in Fort Wayne, but no one has ever taken the matter up with me and offered to furnish the proof; all my information has come under cover. Now if anyone is sufficiently aggrieved to take the pains to write to me about it, why can he not come to me directly and show me some facts and the proofs to sustain them? I will say, however, that I will meet with the board of safety at the next regular meeting next Tuesday night and will ask for some close statistical information. There are some public evils, such as prostitution, which can not properly be discussed; there are evils like diseases, such as leprosy, smallpox, which can not be obliterated, but can be restricted and regulated. I promised that wine rooms and dives and saloons with women in them should go and I have kept my promise and propose to make more drastic reforms in that direction if I can. The general policy which I adopted when I first took the mayor's chair I shall continue. I will endeavor to protect the rights of all and do that which my conscience tells me is for the best interests of the greater number of people. I want to say frankly that if the people of Fort Wayne expect me to make this town a regular heaven they will be disappointed—I can't do it and I am not even going to try. My sole aim is to give the people of Fort Wayne a straightforward business administration and on the question of the strict enforcement of the strict letter of the law you can state for me that I will respect any complaint that is made to me in a regular way, but once more want to assert that I will not respect anonymous communications in any form."

WILL BE A BUSY SESSION

The directors of the Commercial club will hold their regular monthly meeting this evening, and the indications are that the session will be a very busy one. Chairman Graetar, of the manufactures committee, will present several propositions looking toward the location of new factories in Fort Wayne, and it is believed preliminary steps will be taken to organize a land company to provide manufacturing sites to enterprises which desire to locate in this city. The special committee on dedication of the court house will present a suggested outline for a program, and advice, suggestion and criticism will be invited. The meeting is open to the public.

An Honest Doctor
AND
Eminent Specialist.
D. W. Tucker, A. M. M. D.
INDIANA MEDICAL AND SURGICAL INSTITUTE.
The Oldest, the Largest, and the Best —Thirty Years' Experience.

Many Imitators, But no Equal.

Permit us to call the attention of our readers to the important fact that there are three essential steps in the successful treatment of disease. First, a correct diagnosis; second, the selection of the proper remedies in their best possible form, and third, a thorough knowledge of knowing how to prepare these remedies and their physiological effects upon the human body, in order to effect a cure. In the three above named facts Dr. D. W. Tucker has no equal in the state of Indiana. He has treated many thousands of cases within the last Thirty Years.

If one fourth of the people that are now in the cemetery had consulted and been treated by some good Specialist in place of their family doctor, they would have lived twenty years longer. Only a Specialist, who thoroughly understands Chronic Diseases, can treat them successfully. Dr. Tucker is without doubt the ablest specialist in this state and has treated and cured more cases of Chronic and Private Diseases than all the other Specialists in this state combined.

A doctor that has restored thousands to health, and can produce undeniable proof of the fact, must be regarded with respect. This is the record of Dr. Tucker, which cannot be equaled by any other specialist in the United States. His success is the result of THIRTY YEARS of careful study, extensive research, observation and remarkable experience in the treatment and cure of thousands of chronic and private diseases of the Brain, Heart, Lungs, Liver, Kidneys, Bladder, Rectum, Gleet, Impotency, Nervous Diseases, Catarrh, Piles, Varicocele, Strictures, and all private diseases of both sexes. If Dr. Tucker cannot cure you no other specialist in the United States can. He has deposited in bank ONE THOUSAND DOLLARS that he has treated more cases of chronic diseases and performed more remarkable cures than any THREE SPECIALISTS in the State of Indiana. He will not deceive you, and guarantees to cure every case he takes for treatment. He is vouched for by the best banks and citizens of the state.

The only Master Specialist in the State of Indiana can be found only at the Indiana Medical and Surgical Institute, at No. 10 West Wayne street. Call or address,

DON'T MAKE EXPERIMENTS.

Smith's Green Mountain Renovator is compounded of roots and herbs only, and is a quick and sure cure for blood troubles, weak or diseased stomach, liver, kidneys and bladder, rheumatism, dyspepsia, or anything else that is the matter with you—provided the blood or the organs mentioned are responsible—which they probably are.

This medicine is new to you, perhaps, but old in fact—for 25 years the family medicine of Old Vermont, the home of strong, hearty, long-lived men and women.

Give it a trial, and if it don't benefit you we will give you your money back. That shows how much we believe in the merits of Smith's Green Mountain Renovator.

HOMEOPATHIC PREPARATIONS

High-class, twentieth century medicines, many years in advance of prevalent systems. Seventy remedies for seventy different diseases. Each remedy prepared expressly for a single disease. Cure a greater proportion of cases than the best physicians in their practice. Cure so-called "incurable" cases after they are given up by physicians. We have records of marvelous cures, and the remedies create a sensation in all communities where they are introduced. Cures are speedy and permanent. Prices bring them within the reach of the poorest in purse.

John A. Rosenbush, druggist of Union City, Ind., says: "I have used the Enk Preparations personally and in my family and sold thousands of bottles in the last three years with the most perfect satisfaction. We have many families here that rely upon these Preparations in all cases of sickness, and they certainly get along with less trouble and expense than their neighbors who stick to the old methods."

Our pamphlets, "Short Road to Health," and "Treatise on Private Diseases," free to all by mail or of druggists.

A FALSE FACE.

When dyspepsia fastens on a man it changes his feelings and it changes his looks. He frowns now instead of smiling. His expression is harsh instead of kindly. He is wearing a false face—a face which does injustice to the real nobility of his nature.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures dyspepsia and other diseases of the stomach and allied organs of digestion and nutrition, and the record of the cure is written both in the face and the feelings of the person cured.

"Golden Medical Discovery" is not a stimulant or temporary tonic. It cures the diseases that are the cause of ill-health and builds up the body with sound flesh.

Accept no substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery." The sole motive for substitution is to enable the dealer to make the little more profit paid on the sale of less meritorious medicines.

"Last spring, early, I wrote you my feelings and condition," says Mr. A. J. Vanderwater, of 873 West Division Street, Chicago, Ill., "and you advised me to take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and then write how I felt. I am happy to say I am getting to feel fine. In all I have taken six bottles of the 'Discovery' and four or five vials of the little 'Pellets.' They have done me worlds of good. All my friends say: 'Vanderwater, how well you are looking.' The medicines have made the great change in me: from the slow mope of a man that could hardly crawl, tired and sick all the time, could do no work, to a man who can work, sleep, eat, and feel fine, and that tired feeling all gone away. I am very thankful that I wrote to Dr. Pierce. His 'Golden Medical Discovery' and his little liver 'Pellets' have almost made a new man of me. I feel young as I did at thirty years."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cleanse the clogged bowels.

ENGINEER GRAYLESS RETIRES FROM RAILROADING.

AN ALTON ENGINE COMING

WILL HAUL FAST PENNSYLVANIA TRAINS FEW DAYS.

AN AGENT CALLED HIGHER

ADAMS COMPANY GIVES AUSTIN GOOD POSITION.

F. W. Grayless and his family will soon be residents of Fort Wayne again, after an absence of several years. Mr. Grayless is a locomotive engineer and for the past two or three years he has been employed on the Grand Trunk, with headquarters at Battle Creek, Mich. He resigned that position a few days ago and will become traveling salesman for the Brotherhood Glove company, of Battle Creek, March 1, with headquarters in Fort Wayne. This company is under the control of the enginemen's brotherhoods and it makes a glove particularly adapted to use in the cab. For several years Mr. Grayless was a fireman on the Pittsburg road, quitting to take a positin as engineer on the Chicago and Erie. Thence he went to the Baltimore and Ohio and later to the Grand Trunk. He is prominent in the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and when a resident of this city he was for several terms one of the officers of A. G. Porter lodge No. 141.

ALL MUST QUIT DRINKING.

The Chicago, Burlington and Quincy company has issued an order that will compel all employes to abstain from the use of intoxicating drinks or get out of service. This rule heretofore applied only to men in the train service, but it has been made general. The order also prohibits soliciting fees or subscriptions among the men for any purpose and it also states that employes must pay their debts.

WILL VISIT OLD HOME.

Next week John George Reiber, the axle lathe operator at the Pittsburg car shops, will leave for Wuerdenburg, Germany, his native place, for a two months' visit with his brothers and sisters. Mr. Reiber and his family left Wuerdenburg for America thirteen years ago and he has not seen that place since. He is anticipating much pleasure from the visit with the associates of his boyhood days.

SPRAINED HIS ANKLE.

S. McCumsey, a carpenter of the Nickel Plate's bridge gang, fell a short distance yesterday and sprained one of his ankles badly. He went to his home in Claypool to remain until the wounded member recovers. Perry Montgomery, the carpenter who had an arm broken at the Nickel Plate yards yesterday, mentioned in The Sentinel last evening, resides in Port Seneca, Ohio. He went home last night.

MADE THEIR FIRST TRIP.

Two of the big Brooks engines, mentioned in The Sentinel a few days ago, made their first trip over the Nickel Plate with a load yesterday and last night, when they brought down from Stony Island the second and third sections of No. 40. They left Chicago at 3 o'clock and reached this city at 5 o'clock this morning, "running hot" en route and acting badly otherwise. But this is characteristic of new engines and is always expected. No. 119, which hauled the second train, had twenty-four loaded cars and a tonnage of 790; No. 120, with the third train, had twenty-six cars, with a tonnage of 816. Engineer Michael McCarthy and Fireman A. F. Kartholl occupied the cab of engine 119, and Engineer T. E. Short and Fireman L. D. Stouder occupied the cab of engine 120. No effort was made towards speed; neither were the engines loaded heavily, the trip being made more with a view of "limbering" them than of testing their running or pulling capacities. Two more new engines, making eight so far received, passed through the city last night en route to the Island.

AUSTIN CALLED HIGH.

C. T. Austin, route agent with the Adams Express company, has received notice of a promotion in the service of the company, the same to become effective next Saturday. The management failed to state what Mr. Austin's title will be or just where he will be located, but intimated that a very statisfactory increase in salary would accompany the change. J. M. Morris, of Terre Haute, has been named as Mr. Austin's successor. This change is also in line of promotion. The route covered by Mr. Austin is one of the longest in the country. It includes the Grand Rapids and Indiana road from Richmond to Mackinaw and the Pennsylvania road from Crestline to Chicago, and has 557 offices where goods are delivered or received.

FAT NERVES.

A whirl of excitement was recently caused in the scientific world by the news that the mystery of nerve action has been solved.

It is announced that healthy nerves are fat nerves—and that it is the fat in the core of the nerve which is sensitive and by hardening and softening creates nerve action.

Maybe this explains why Scott's Emulsion has always been such a remarkable remedy for nervousness.

Scott's Emulsion feeds thin nerves with the best of all fats, the pure cod-liver oil and strengthens them with the best of nerve tonics, the hypophosphites.

For all forms of nervousness and neuralgia take Scott's Emulsion.

EXCHANGE ENGINES TODAY.

Road Foreman C. R. Colmey, of the Pennsylvania, went to Valparaiso this morning on business for the company. At that place he will get aboard one of the Chicago and Alton's big passenger engines, which will bring train No. 20 down, and take notes of the manner in which she does the work of pulling a heavy and fast train. This engine has been assigned to the western division of the Fort Wayne road for a week or two for experimental purposes, and in return one of the big E-2 passenger engines of the Pennsylvania, possibly No. 18, will be turned over to the Alton for a like purpose. Each has special features with which the enginemen who will handle them during the experiments are unfamiliar. This is the second time the Pennsylvania has exchanged engines with the Alton, one of the latter's piston valve engines being here several weeks a year ago.

FELL IN HOLE AND WAS HURT.

The city ambulance was called to the Kerr Murray works at an early hour this morning to convey Thomas McNearney to his home out on New Haven avenue. McNearney works at the Kerr Murray foundry, and while going to his duties this morning he slipped and fell, striking his right side against a casting and painfully bruising himself. Dr. Van Buskirk attended the sufferer.

GREGG DAVIS RESIGNS.

Gregg Davis, who has been employed as an inspector by the Inspection bureau for the past year or two, has resigned to engage in the real estate and loan business. Mr. Davis has been a familiar figure about the freight depots for a number of years and is quite a popular fellow. His retirement will result in a number of changes, some of them being in line of promotion, while others are merely a transfer. A. W. McClellan goes to the Wabash, D. W. McConnell to the Pennsylvania, and Samuel Kelker, jr., to the Lake Shore. Mr. Kelker was night bill clerk for the Lake Erie and Western and in this he will be succeeded by Report Clerk Lyman Griffith, who is succeeded by Night Seal Clerk William Stuckman. The successor to the latter has not yet been named.

CHARLES RACQUET PROMOTED.

Charles Racquet, one of the rising mechanics of the city, has been promoted to the foremanship of the fan motor department of the Electric works and he assumed that duty this morning. F. F. Boistel, of Dayton, Ohio, arrived in the city yesterday and this morning took a position with Foreman Racquet.

NEW NIGHT FOREMAN.

T. W. Newell, recently from Philadelphia, has been employed as night foreman at the Wabash shops and round house in Peru. Acting Master Mechanic M. R. Coutant accompanied Mr. Newell to Peru this afternoon, to install him in the office and introduce him to the men with whom he will be associated.

Firemen C. A. Deardorf, M. J. Reilley, C. F. Lacey and F. Reilley, of the Pittsburg, are sick and off duty.

H. W. Ropa, of Foreman P. J. Scheid's office, Pittsburg roundhouse, is off duty having an injured eye treated.

Engineer A. A. Greenich, of the Pennsylvania, who was sick a week, reported for duty at the yards this morning.

Brakeman H. A. Banks took a position on the Nickel Plate yesterday. He was employed for over a year on the Pittsburg road.

Nickel Plate Brakeman J. C. Hincelman has returned from a visit with his wife in Ohio. The lady is sick at the home of her parents.

Conductor S. Deahl, of the Nickel Plate, is taking a few days' rest. C. Compton, a brakeman, reported for work after a short rest.

Harry McClure, machinist apprentice at the Wabash shops, was called to Toledo this morning to see his married sister, who is said to be very sick.

Caller H. F. Reiter, of the Pittsburg, reported for work this morning after a ten days' absence. He fell on the ice and injured his hips and back.

W. H. Truesdale, president of the Lackawanna, received an increase in salary at the hands of the directors last week. He now receives $45,000 per year.

Next Sunday the Pennsylvania will have a special train through this city carrying a party of Wisconsin lumbermen to their homes. The travelers have been junketing in the east.

A. G. Porter lodge No. 141, Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen, added the names of F. DeTurk and J. N. Roush to the membership roll at the last meeting of the order. These gentlemen are Pittsburg firemen.

Mrs. Thomas H. Coleman, assisted by Mrs. Harry F. Brill, will entertain the Ladies' auxiliary to the Order of Railway Conductors at the Coleman residence, 1325 Horace street, tomorrow afternoon from 2 to 5 o'clock.

Machinist James Cull, of the Wabash shops, became the possessor of a pony rather suddenly and unexpectedly last evening. The animal is pretty and valuable and Mr. Cull will soon be driving him to a fine carriage.

F. J. Ryan had a finger injured yesterday while at work in the Pittsburg machine shop and will be off duty a few days. H. J. Meyers, T. J. O'Connell and Louis Gage are sick and J. McCarthy is taking a vacation.

Service tests for 158 nights on the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul, to determine the cost of operation of an electric headlight, showed the average cost to be 2.41 cents per hour, while lighting is done with oil at a cost of 1.21 cents per hour.

President M. D. Woodford, of the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton road, is preparing to take up a permanent residence in Cincinnati, where his railway interests are chiefly located. He has purchased a fine house in a popular residence part of the city.

The Penna Company Social club held its regular semi-monthly meeting last evening, initiating seven applicants and taking action upon twenty-two other applications. At the close of the business session the club held a smoker and had a very pleasant time. The attendance was good.

Marion, Ind., will get the Clover Leaf shops, providing the citizens vote a subsidy. A call for an election will be made in a few days. The Cincinnati, Richmond and Muncie company has also asked Marion for a subsidy in consideration of the location of the shops of that company in that city.

The New York Central has decided to make Utica the most important division point between New York and Buffalo, and has purchased an extensive tract of land for yards. The company will erect a $150,000 passenger station and make other improvements on account of privileges granted by the city.

Col. J. H. Fry and Stenographer Frank Doriot, of the Pensylvania, became members of Fort Wayne lodge, No. 19, A. O. U. W., last night. There were eleven others taken in also, but The Sentinel mentions these two because they were selected to go through the entire initiatory work, with many frills and additions, and their fortunate brother applicants were given the privilege of looking upon their discomfit and embarrassment. Col. Fry said this morning that he "got a plenty."

MARVELOUS GROWTH OF HAIR

A Famous Doctor-Chemist Has Discovered a Compound That Grows Hair on a Bald Head in a Single Night.

Startling Announcement Causes Doctors to Marvel and Stand Dumbfounded at the Wonderful Cures.

THE DISCOVERER SENDS FREE TRIAL PACKAGES TO ALL WHO WRITE.

After half a century spent in the laboratory, crowned with high honors for his many world-famous discoveries, the celebrated physician-chemist at the head of the great Altenheim Medical Dispensary, has just made the startling announcement that he has produced a compound that grows hair on any bald head. The doctor makes the claim that after experiments, taking years to complete, he has at last reached the goal of his ambition. To the doctor all heads are alike. There are none which cannot be cured by this remarkable remedy. The record of the cures already made is truly marvelous and were it not for the high standing of the great physician and the convincing testimony of thousands of citizens all over the country it would seem too miraculous to be true.

MISS HISLOP, of New Zealand, and Her Marvelous Growth of Hair.

There can be no doubt of the doctor's earnestness in making his claims nor can his cures be disputed. He does not ask any man, woman or child to take his or anyone else's word for it, but he stands ready and willing to send free trial packages of this great hair restorative to any one who writes to him for it, enclosing a 2-cent stamp to prepay postage. In a single night it has started hair to growing on heads bald for years. It has stopped falling hair in one hour. It never fails no matter what the condition, age or sex. Old men and young men, women and children, all have profited by the free use of this great new discovery. If you are bald, if your hair is falling out or if your hair, eyebrows or eyelashes are thin or short write the Altenheim Medical Dispensary, 5841 Butterfield Building, Cincinnati, Ohio, enclosing a 2-cent stamp to prepay postage for a free package and in a short time you will be entirely restored.

VARICOCELE!

Have You Got It?

We Will Cure You In Five Days.

Do not waste time taking medicine, applying local applications, electric belts or suspensories. You burn your money. That kind of treatment will never cure you. Never a day passes without a number call at our office suffering from this terrible malady, Varicocele, telling us their misfortune of falling in hands of quacks; been treating with them from one to five years—spending a small fortune and now worse than before taking their treatment.

GENTLEMEN, WAKE UP!

The pleasures of life are slipping through your fingers. Come to us and be cured.

It matters not by whom you have been treated, how long a sufferer or how bad a Varicocele you have; we will cure you just as sure as 2 and 2 are 4. If we don't, not one cent will it cost you. Our treatment for Varicocele is painless, no cutting, no blood and will not stop you a day from your daily work. If you are a sufferer from Varicocele, call at our office and we will gladly explain our method of curing this malady. This will cost you nothing and we will explain to your own satisfaction that WE CURE VARICOCELE TO STAY CURED.

HOMEOPATHIC PREPARATIONS

High-class, twentieth century medicines, many years in advance of prevalent systems. Seventy remedies for seventy different diseases. Each remedy prepared expressly for a single disease. Cure a greater proportion of cases than the best physicians in their practice. Cure so-called "incurable" cases after they are given up by physicians. We have records of marvelous cures, and the remedies create a sensation in all communities where they are introduced. Cures are speedy and permanent. Prices bring them within the reach of the poorest in purse.

John A. Rosenbush, druggist of Union City, Ind., says: "I have used the Enk Preparations personally and in my family and sold thousands of bottles in the last three years with the most perfect satisfaction. We have many families here that rely upon these Preparations in all cases of sickness, and they certainly get along with less trouble and expense than their neighbors who stick to the old methods."

A FALSE FACE.

When dyspepsia fastens on a man it changes his feelings and it changes his looks. He frowns now instead of smiling. His expression is harsh instead of kindly. He is wearing a false face—a face which does injustice to the real nobility of his nature.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures dyspepsia and other diseases of the stomach and allied organs of digestion and nutrition, and the record of the cure is written both in the face and the feelings of the person cured.

"Golden Medical Discovery" is not a stimulant or temporary tonic. It cures the diseases that are the cause of ill-health and builds up the body with sound flesh.

Accept no substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery." The sole motive for substitution is to enable the dealer to make the little more profit paid on the sale of less meritorious medicines.

"Last spring, early, I wrote you my feelings and condition," says Mr. A. J. Vanderwater, of 875 West Division Street, Chicago, Ill., "and you advised me to take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and then write how I felt. I am happy to say I am getting to feel fine. In all I have taken six bottles of the 'Discovery' and four or five vials of the little 'Pellets.' They have done me worlds of good. All my friends say: 'Vanderwater, how well you are looking.' The medicines have made the great change in me: from the slow mope of a man that could hardly crawl, tired and sick all the time, could do no work, to a man who can work, sleep, eat, and feel fine, and that tired feeling all gone away. I am very thankful that I wrote to Dr. Pierce. His 'Golden Medical Discovery' and his little liver 'Pellets' have almost made a new man of me. I feel young as I did at thirty years."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cleanse the clogged bowels.

ENGINEER GRAYLESS RETIRES FROM RAILROADING.

AN ALTON ENGINE COMING

WILL HAUL FAST PENNSYLVANIA TRAINS FEW DAYS.

AN AGENT CALLED HIGHER

ADAMS COMPANY GIVES AUSTIN GOOD POSITION.

F. W. Grayless and his family will soon be residents of Fort Wayne again, after an absence of several years. Mr. Grayless is a locomotive engineer and for the past two or three years he has been employed on the Grand Trunk, with headquarters at Battle Creek, Mich. He resigned that position a few days ago and will become traveling salesman for the Brotherhood Glove company, of Battle Creek, March 1, with headquarters in Fort Wayne. This company is under the control of the enginemen's brotherhoods and it makes a glove particularly adapted to use in the cab. For several years Mr. Grayless was a fireman on the Pittsburg road, quitting to take a positin as engineer on the Chicago and Erie. Thence he went to the Baltimore and Ohio and later to the Grand Trunk. He is prominent in the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and when a resident of this city he was for several terms one of the officers of A. G. Porter lodge No. 141.

ALL MUST QUIT DRINKING.

The Chicago, Burlington and Quincy company has issued an order that will compel all employes to abstain from the use of intoxicating drinks or get out of service. This rule heretofore applied only to men in the train service, but it has been made general. The order also prohibits soliciting fees or subscriptions among the men for any purpose and it also states that employes must pay their debts.

WILL VISIT OLD HOME.

Next week John George Reiber, the axle lathe operator at the Pittsburg car shops, will leave for Wuerdenburg, Germany, his native place, for a two months' visit with his brothers and sisters. Mr. Reiber and his family left Wuerdenburg for America thirteen years ago and he has not seen that place since. He is anticipating much pleasure from the visit with the associates of his boyhood days.

SPRAINED HIS ANKLE.

S. McCumsey, a carpenter of the Nickel Plate's bridge gang, fell a short distance yesterday and sprained one of his ankles badly. He went to his home in Claypool to remain until the wounded member recovers. Perry Montgomery, the carpenter who had an arm broken at the Nickel Plate yards yesterday, mentioned in The Sentinel last evening, resides in Port Seneca, Ohio. He went home last night.

MADE THEIR FIRST TRIP.

Two of the big Brooks engines, mentioned in The Sentinel a few days ago, made their first trip over the Nickel Plate with a load yesterday and last night, when they brought down from Stony Island the second and third sections of No. 40. They left Chicago at 3 o'clock and reached this city at 5 o'clock this morning, "running hot" en route and acting badly otherwise. But this is characteristic of new engines and is always expected. No. 119, which hauled the second train, had twenty-four loaded cars and a tonnage of 790; No. 120, with the third train, had twenty-six cars, with a tonnage of 816. Engineer Michael McCarthy and Fireman A. F. Kartholl occupied the cab of engine 119, and Engineer T. E. Short and Fireman L. D. Stouder occupied the cab of engine 120. No effort was made towards speed; neither were the engines loaded heavily, the trip being made more with a view of "limbering" them than of testing their running or pulling capacities. Two more new engines, making eight so far received, passed through the city last night en route to the Island.

AUSTIN CALLED HIGH.

C. T. Austin, route agent with the Adams Express company, has received notice of a promotion in the service of the company, the same to become effective next Saturday. The management failed to state what Mr. Austin's title will be or just where he will be located, but intimated that a very satisfactory increase in salary would accompany the change. J. M. Morris, of Terre Haute, has been named as Mr. Austin's successor. This change is also in line of promotion. The route covered by Mr. Austin is one of the longest in the country. It includes the Grand Rapids and Indiana road from Richmond to Mackinaw and the Pennsylvania road from Crestline to Chicago, and has 557 offices where goods are delivered or received.

FAT NERVES.

A whirl of excitement was recently caused in the scientific world by the news that the mystery of nerve action has been solved.

It is announced that healthy nerves are fat nerves—and that it is the fat in the core of the nerve which is sensitive and by hardening and softening creates nerve action.

Maybe this explains why Scott's Emulsion has always been such a remarkable remedy for nervousness.

Scott's Emulsion feeds thin nerves with the best of all fats, the pure cod-liver oil and strengthens them with the best of nerve tonics, the hypophosphites.

For all forms of nervousness and neuralgia take Scott's Emulsion.

EXCHANGE ENGINES TODAY.

Road Foreman C. R. Colmey, of the Pennsylvania, went to Valparaiso this morning on business for the company. At that place he will get aboard one of the Chicago and Alton's big passenger engines, which will bring train No. 20 down, and take notes of the manner in which she does the work of pulling a heavy and fast train. This engine has been assigned to the western division of the Fort Wayne road for a week or two for experimental purposes, and in return one of the big E-2 passenger engines of the Pennsylvania, possibly No. 18, will be turned over to the Alton for a like purpose. Each has special features with which the enginemen who will handle them during the experiments are unfamiliar. This is the second time the Pennsylvania has exchanged engines with the Alton, one of the latter's piston valve engines being here several weeks a year ago.

FELL IN HOLE AND WAS HURT.

The city ambulance was called to the Kerr Murray works at an early hour this morning to convey Thomas McNearney to his home out on New Haven avenue. McNearney works at the Kerr Murray foundry, and while going to his duties this morning he slipped and fell, striking his right side against a casting and painfully bruising himself. Dr. Van Buskirk attended the sufferer.

GREGG DAVIS RESIGNS.

Gregg Davis, who has been employed as an inspector by the Inspection bureau for the past year or two, has resigned to engage in the real estate and loan business. Mr. Davis has been a familiar figure about the freight depots for a number of years and is quite a popular fellow. His retirement will result in a number of changes, some of them being in line of promotion, while others are merely a transfer. A. W. McClellan goes to the Wabash, D. W. McConnell to the Pennsylvania, and Samuel Kelker, jr., to the Lake Shore. Mr. Kelker was night bill clerk for the Lake Erie and Western and in this he will be succeeded by Report Clerk Lyman Griffith, who is succeeded by Night Seal Clerk William Stuckman. The successor to the latter has not yet been named.

CHARLES RACQUET PROMOTED.

Charles Racquet, one of the rising mechanics of the city, has been promoted to the foremanship of the fan motor department of the Electric works and he assumed that duty this morning. F. F. Boistel, of Dayton, Ohio, arrived in the city yesterday and this morning took a position with Foreman Racquet.

NEW NIGHT FOREMAN.

T. W. Newell, recently from Philadelphia, has been employed as night foreman at the Wabash shops and round house in Peru. Acting Master Mechanic M. R. Coutant accompanied Mr. Newell to Peru this afternoon, to install him in the office and introduce him to the men with whom he will be associated.

A REMARKABLE MEDICINE

Satisfactory to the Stomach. Best for the Bowels. Kindly to the Kidneys. Enough to Prove This. Free.

Alma-Bromo Salt, the waters of the celebrated mineral spring at Alma, Mich., evaporated to crystallization, is the best home remedy for the speedy and permanent cure of constipation, stomach, liver, kidney and nervous diseases; to remove the cause of headache and rheumatism, and to clear the complexion. Pleasing to the taste; agreeable to the stomach; cleansing to the bowels; soothing and strengthening to brain and nerves; this aperient, tonic and nervine is unequaled. It is for sale at druggists for 50 cents a bottle. Send a postal card to The Michigan Drug Co., Detroit, Mich., requesting a trial bottle which will be mailed you free and prepaid.

VARICOCELE!

Have You Got It?

We Will Cure You In Five Days.

Do not waste time taking medicine, applying local applications, electric belts or suspensories. You burn your money. That kind of treatment will never cure you. Never a day passes without a number call at our office suffering from this terrible malady, Varicocele, telling us their misfortune of falling in hands of quacks; been treating with them from one to five years—spending a small fortune and now worse than before taking their treatment.

GENTLEMEN, WAKE UP!

The pleasures of life are slipping through your fingers. Come to us and be cured.

It matters not by whom you have been treated, how long a sufferer or how bad a Varicocele you have; we will cure you just as sure as 2 and 2 are 4. If we don't, not one cent will it cost you. Our treatment for Varicocele is painless, no cutting, no blood and will not stop you a day from your daily work. If you are a sufferer from Varicocele, call at our office and we will gladly explain our method of curing this malady. This will cost you nothing and we will explain to your own satisfaction that WE CURE VARICOCELE TO STAY CURED.

$500.00 FORFEIT

1st. For any case of Varicocele we accept and fail to cure.

2nd. To any one we have treated for any trouble and not satisfied.

3rd. For any case of Hydrocele we cannot cure in five (5) minutes.

4th. For any case of NERVOUS DEBILITY, MENTAL DEPRESSION, SEXUAL WEAKNESS, DISCHARGES of every kind, ULCERS or sores on any part of body, Stricture, Rheumatism, Stomach, Liver, Kidney and Bladder troubles, or any Chronic, NERVOUS, BLOOD, SKIN, SPECIAL OR PRIVATE DISEASE we accept and fail to cure.

We ARE HERE TO STAY, and you take no chances treating with us. Reference—Banks, Newspapers and the best business and professional men in the city.

Delays are fatal. Consult us at once. Consultation free to all. Office hours 9 a. m. to 9 p. m.; Sundays 9 a. m. to 12 m.

MANY POLITICIANS HERE.

Candidates for places upon the republican state ticket have been dropping into Fort Wayne thick and fast during the past few days. F. A. Cotton, of Indianapolis, who is after the nomination for superintendent of public institution, left today, but he was quickly succeeded by R. C. Hillis, of Logansport, who is after the same berth upon the ticket. John W. Dyer, of Hammond, and Frank H. Doran, of Laporte, arrived today. Mr. Dyer is after the state treasurership, while Mr. Doran has his eye on the auditorship. He is at present serving his second term as auditor of Laporte county.

PIONEER IS VERY ILL.

Marcus Ridenour, more than 70 years of age, and a pioneer resident of Madison township, is reported critically ill at the home of his daughter, Mrs. J. C. Houk, just over the Adams county line. Mr. Ridenour went to visit his daughter a short time ago and was taken very ill, though he has been in feeble health for several years, the result of paralysis. He is the father of C. S. Ridenour, manager of the Mondamin Meadows dairy plant, and of Mrs. W. F. Devilbiss.

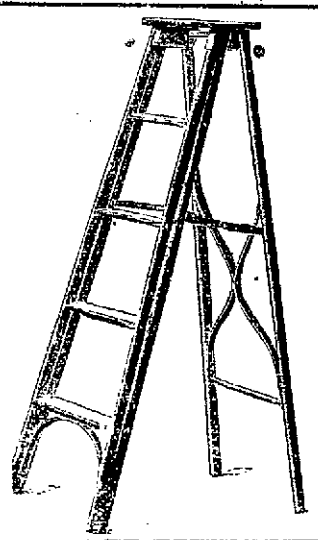
"It's a good thing LAVLY'S have it."



Don't Break Your Neck.....

On a cheaply built STEP LADDER; better pay a trifle more and get one of our BUILT-ON-HONOR kind. Our climax Ladder contains that feature. We warrant it perfect in every way or your money refunded. All sizes, 3 to 8 steps, with pail shelf. Price 25c per foot. We also sell a lower priced step ladder, our "DAISY," at 10c per foot. Not a climax, but very serviceable. We consider our line of woodenware complete in every way and invite you to call and look it over. If you do not find your wants gratified after so doing "speak right out in meetin'," for your wishes prompt our purchases.

BOTH PHONES 146 LAVLY'S UP-TO-DATE HARDWARE STORE 19 and 21 W. MAIN ST.
